

Daddy

I cannot wait yet ONE more day
to see your smiling face

TO HAVE YOU HOLD ME ON YOUR CHEST and feel your warm embrace

TO HOLD MY TINY BABY HANDS and KISS me on my cheek

TO ROCK ME Gently IN YOUR ARMS and watch me fall asleep

TO SING ME SILLY LULLABIES and jam to rockin toons

I CANNOT WAIT TO SEE YOU DADDY
I know the time is soon!

Gendering Military Sacrifice Cecilia Åse, Maria Wendt, 2019-02-12 This book offers a feminist analysis of military sacrifice and reveals the importance of a gender perspective in understanding the idea of honourable death In present day security discourses traditional masculinised obligations to die for the homeland and its women and children are challenged and renegotiated Working from a critical feminist perspective this book examines the political and societal justifications for sacrifice in wars motivated by human rights and an international responsibility to protect With original empirical research from six European countries the volume demonstrates how gendered and nationalistic representations saturate contemporary notions of sacrifice and legitimate military violence A key argument is that a gender perspective is necessary in order to understand and to oppose the idea of the honourable military death Bringing together a wide range of materials including public debates rituals monuments and artwork to analyse the justifications for soldiers deaths in the Afghanistan war 2002 14 the analysis challenges methodological nationalism The authors develop a feminist comparative methodology and engage in cross country and transdisciplinary analysis This innovative approach generates new understandings of the ways in which both the idealisation and the political contestation of military violence depend on gendered national narratives This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies critical military studies security studies and International Relations
