

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space weapons and launch them?	That U.S. suspend the prohibition of launching nuclear weapons.	Not really.
2. Would anyone benefit from the launch and retrieval of satellites?	They would surely gain useful information about our world. They could also launch satellites to aid their military efforts on land.	They might develop better intelligence about the U.S. perhaps even learn about Soviet missile launch, planned attacks and conduct of internal Communist activities.
3. Would anyone disagree with this?	Not really.	Some might be uneasy about our dependence on the Soviets.
4. Would the U.S. believe that such launch retrieval would be necessary?	Not the government but its citizens. There is a considerable minority.	Not everyone would see importance and would not take advantage of the Soviet.

2. Suppose the agreement simply to stop launching satellites.

What would be the main reason?

It might be that the launching of satellites is harmful.

It would be because the government has decided to stop launching satellites.

It is possible that launching satellites is not necessary.
