Continuum Encyclopedia of Children's Literature Bernice E. Cullinan, Diane Goetz Person, 2005-01-01 Provides articles covering children's literature from around the world as well as biographical and critical reviews of authors including Avi C S Lewis J K Rowling and Anno Mitsumasa Que's Official Internet Yellow Pages Joe Kraynak, 2005 Information online is not stored or organized in any logical fashion but this reference attempts to organize and catalog a small portion of the Web in a single resource of the best sites in each category Using Literature to Support Skills and Critical Discussion for Struggling Readers Nancy S. Williams, 2004 Emphasizing the need to develop higher level thinking skills and critical discussion with intermediate and middle school struggling readers Williams uses quality children's literature as a springboard to help readers understand and use descriptive vocabulary and figurative language make personal connections with text create and solve text related mathematical problems promote an active engaged discussion and critical analysis of the story and the important issues raised in text extend meaning through research and writing art and drama To help teachers match student to text literature selections are categorized according to interest e g mystery sports humor identity solving problems genre and include reading level interest level and number of pages Discussion questions and extension activities specific to over 100 children's literature selections provide opportunities for students to ask questions discuss and use descriptive language make predictions and inferences evaluate story elements and critically reflect on character perspectives and social issues raised in the text All questions are appropriate for individual work special education classrooms general education and inclusion classrooms and help teachers facilitate literature discussion groups book club discussion and response writing self regulated reading guided reading and whole class discussions Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2011 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts a comprehensive overview of research on this topic extends conceptualizations of literacy to include all of the communicative arts reading writing speaking listening viewing and the visual arts of drama dance film art video and computer technology The Community of the Book John Young Cole, This is a selective listing of organizations that promote books and reading administer literacy projects and encourage the study of books Compiled by Carren O Kaston The Community of the Book focuses on national programs of special interest to the Center for the Book in The Library of Congress but should be of use to the entire book community The emphasis is on organizations in the United States where recently there has been renewed interest in educational reform in literacy and in the future of publishing The assumption underlining this unusual directory is that a community of the book does exist and that it can be mobilized to keep books and reading central in the life of Democratic societies The listings provide a richly detailed account of 89 major resource centers providing names of directors addresses telephone numbers and founding dates In addition each listing discusses the purposes of the organization examples of its activities publications sponsored and sources of fiscal support In short the volume is intended to serve as a national catalyst for stimulating public interest in books in particular and reading in general Cole provides a pellucid opening essay on the subject Is There a Community of the Book What is surprising is not his clear affirmative answer so much as the closely argued historical and analytical study of how this community has been deepened through the conscious activities of The Library of Congress The work concludes with a brief but valuable guide to other resources ranging from publishing broadcasting bookselling libraries and book collecting and culture Encyclopedia of African-American Literature

Wilfred D. Samuels, 2015-04-22 Presents a reference on African American literature providing profiles of notable and little known writers and their works literary forms and genres critics and scholars themes and terminology and more Challenging the Gifted Child Margaret Stevens, 2008-10-15 This book outlines an approach for encouraging able children to focus their active minds in a productive way and discover the joy of reading It encourages the development of independent learning skills and will help parents and educators to create a personalized reading programme for a gifted child at home or small groups of children in school Textbooks? Not Yet-We Must Teach Character First! Leah C. Tolbert, 2011

Looking for a better way Well here it is This book is so practical it is scary Really Whether you are a first year teacher seasoned teacher an administrator or still in college trying to decide if the education route is for you this book works The author gives clearly detailed ideas guiding you through the first days and weeks of school She provides tables and charts to further articulate ideas about how to make the concepts work She does not leave anything out The title may seem a bit unorthodox but there is a reason for that Textbooks and information alone do not engage our children in the classroom or in life When we teach them how to develop their individual and collective sense of character first they become engaged in learning and never look back This book is a must read for any organization on the cutting edge of education today
