Multi-level management involvement is generally only implemented following requests from below to address existing and emerging HR issues and the opportunity to focus work on specific HR problems currently facing the general manager. Encouraging and protecting the general manager's discretionary efforts and involvement in HR issues is imperative for the organization's success, and the senior management needs to understand that the senior management's role is to focus on setting strategy, planning and vision about general HR issues that impact the firm. The organization must also encourage employee involvement.

On recording with respondents, participants should be asked on the day of the test, directly to the respondent's account for the following: before using the service, whether the respondent intended to use the following service, and whether the respondent intended to purchase the respondent's service on the day they were visited. The service will then be recorded for each of the following: whether the respondent intended to use the service, whether the respondent intended to purchase the service, whether the respondent intended to use the service, and whether the respondent intended to purchase the service.

Students will often produce a sentence describing an event and then quickly translate it to the next step in the process. For instance, a child might say, "I'm washing my hands," and then say, "I'm drying my hands." The teacher can then ask the student to describe the next step in the process, such as "I'm putting on my shirt." This can help the student to understand the sequence of events and to use the correct vocabulary to describe them.
