Coplan,1994 The workers who migrate from Lesotho to the mines and cities of neighboring South Africa have developed a rich genre of sung oral poetry word music that focuses on the experiences of migrant life This music provides a culturally reflexive and consciously artistic account of what it is to be a migrant or part of a migrant s life It reveals the relationship between these Basotho workers and the local and South African powers that be the cannibals who live off of the workers labor David Coplan presents a moving collection of material that for the first time reveals the expressive genius of these tenacious but disenfranchised people Coplan discusses every aspect of the Basotho musical literature taking into account historical conditions political dynamics and social forces as well as the styles artistry and occasions of performance He engages the postmodern challenge to decolonize

Sesotho Language David Ambrose,2006 Medicine Murder in Colonial Lesotho Colin Murray,2019-08-06 No detailed description available for Medicine Murder in Colonial Lesotho African Literatures as World Literature Alexander Fyfe, Madhu Krishnan,2022-11-03 The enormous success of writers such as Teju Cole and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie demonstrates that African literatures are now an international phenomenon But the apparent global legibility of a small number of mostly Anglophone writers in the diaspora raises the question of how literary producers from the continent both past and present have situated their work in relation to the world and the kinds of material networks to which this corresponds. This collection shows how literatures from across the African continent engage with conceptualizations of the world in relation to local social and political issues. Focusing on a wide variety of geographic, historical, and linguistic contexts, the essays in this volume seek answers to the following questions: What are the topographies of the world in different literary texts and traditions? What are that world's limits, boundaries, and possibilities? How do literary modes and forms such as realism, narrative, poetry, or the political essay affect the presentation of worldliness? What are the material networks of circulation that allow African literatures to become world literature? African literatures it emerges do important theoretical work that speaks to the very core of world literary studies today.
