Physical Sciences November 2014 Memorandum For Grade 1:

How We Teach Science John L. Rudolph, 2019-06-01 Despite an enduring belief that science should be taught there has been no enduring consensus about how or why This is especially true when it comes to teaching scientific process John Rudolph shows that how we think about and teach science will either sustain or thwart future innovation and determine how science is perceived by the public Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Petr Skoda, Fathallah Adam, 2020-04-10 Knowledge Discovery in Big Data from Astronomy and Earth Observation Astroinformatics bridges the gap between astronomy and geoscience in the context of applications techniques and key principles of big data Machine learning and parallel computing are increasingly becoming cross disciplinary as the phenomena of Big Data is becoming common place This book provides insight into the common workflows and data science tools used for big data in astronomy and geoscience After establishing similarity in data gathering pre processing and handling the data science aspects are illustrated in the context of both fields Software hardware and algorithms of big data are addressed Finally the book offers insight into the emerging science which combines data and expertise from both fields in studying the effect of cosmos on the earth and its inhabitants Addresses both astronomy and geosciences in parallel from a big data perspective Includes introductory information key principles applications and the latest techniques Well supported by computing and information science oriented chapters to introduce the necessary knowledge in these fields Breaking Point Rebecca Schwartz Greene, 2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author's personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt's endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations Ultimately 2.5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening's validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected Army and Navy Journal ,1946 The Palgrave Biographical Encyclopedia of Psychology in Latin America Ana Maria Jacó-Vilela,Hugo Klappenbach,Rubén Ardila,2023-05-19 This biographical encyclopedia will provide the first comprehensive reference work on leading scholars and professionals who have contributed to the development and institutionalization of psychology in Latin America The figures biographed will include scholars who have made a significant theoretical contribution to the discipline as well as practitioners and those who have contributed to the institutionalization of psychology through their work in scientific organisations professional bodies and publications All persons included are recognized authorities and either natives of or long term residents in the region It will offer an invaluable reference point in particular for scholars of the history of psychology Latin American studies the history of science and global psychology as well as for historians psychologists and social scientists seeking international perspectives on the development of the discipline
