

Outcome (200-225 words)

Discuss how it has impacted your life, drawing on experiences wherever possible. Provide examples of how you've put your background, identity, interest, or talent into practice in your daily life and how it has evolved or changed over time.

As I've spoken with people all over the world and immersed myself in finding out how ancient and modern cultures are different from one another, I've actually realized the opposite: we are all fundamentally the same.

As humans, we value the same things like family and relationships, having a firm belief in something, providing for our family, and doing the best we can each day. No matter how much space or time separates us, or how seemingly different our food, clothing, or way of life is, as humans we all want the same thing — to be accepted and respected, no matter how different we may seem on the surface.

This realization changed who I am as a person and how I interact with the world, and I hope to help others have this realization as well.

In Grade 10, I started a new student club at my school called Culture Club, where students of all backgrounds, nationalities, cultures, and beliefs can come together to celebrate and support one another. In just over 18 months, the club has gained over 30 members, which is further proof to my belief that we all want a safe space where we can feel accepted and connect with others.

Reflection (175-200 words)

Discuss what you've learned about yourself because of this background, identity, interest, or talent. Try to make your learning outcomes as unique as possible. Then, briefly state how this background, identity, interest, or talent will impact your goals and aspirations going forward.

I have realized over the last few years that understanding other cultures is such an inseparable part of my identity because I myself strive to more fully understand who I am and discover what my place in the world is. I, like all the people I have talked to, also want to be accepted.

And over time, I have finally come to understand what my true path in life is. I hope to continue to study history and social culture as an undergraduate student. I plan to apply to law school after I have completed my undergrad so that I can eventually become a human rights lawyer and support and advocate for all types of people. As a college student, I hope to become involved in any way I can to connect with my peers and help them feel accepted, just as I hope to be.
