Physical Science Chemical Bonding Study Guide

A. Covalent & Ionic Compounds/Bonds

1. When an atom loses an electron it becomes a positive ion (cation), and when it gains an electron it becomes a negative ion (anion).
2. An element in the halogen group has 7 valence electrons, and wants to gain 1 more to have 8. This is because of the octet rule.
3. An ionic bond is the attraction between oppositely charged ions, AKA a metal and a nonmetal.
4. In a covalent bond, atoms share electrons, whereas in an ionic bond, atoms transfer electrons.
5. (Honors only) When electrons are shared unequally in a covalent bond it is polar, and when they're shared equally it is nonpolar. You can predict if a compound is ionic, polar covalent or nonpolar covalent by subtracting the electronegativities.
6. An atom can have up to 8 valence electrons. The family (column) on the periodic table that all have 8 valence electrons is called noble gases.
7. Atoms can gain, lose, or share valence electrons to become more stable.

B. Formulas for Ionic compounds - Fill in the chart below

	Magnesium	Fluorine	Nitrogen	Lithium
OF VALENCE ELECTRONS	2	7	5	1
OXIDATION #	+2	-1	-3	+1

2. What is the chemical formula for each of the following ionic compounds?
(hint: you can either draw the Lewis structures and use arrows to show the transfer of electrons, OR use the periodic table to find their oxidation numbers. They will combine so that their oxidation numbers cancel out to zero. Use the criss cross method if their oxidation numbers do not cancel.)

- a) Potassium and Chlorine - KCl
- b) Calcium and Bromine - CaBr₂
- c) Magnesium and oxygen - MgO

Rudolph,2019-06-01 A former Wisconsin high school science teacher makes the case that how and why we teach science matters especially now that its legitimacy is under attack Why teach science The answer to that question will determine how it is taught Yet despite the enduring belief in this country that science should be taught there has been no enduring consensus about how or why This is especially true when it comes to teaching scientific process Nearly all of the basic knowledge we have about the world is rock solid The science we teach in high schools in particular laws of motion the structure of the atom cell division DNA replication the universal speed limit of light is accepted as the way nature works Everyone also agrees that students and the public more generally should understand the methods used to gain this knowledge But what exactly is the scientific method Ever since the late 1800s scientists and science educators have grappled with that question Through the years they ve advanced an assortment of strategies ranging from the laboratory method to the five step method to science as inquiry to no method at all How We Teach Science reveals that each strategy was influenced by the intellectual cultural and political circumstances of the time In some eras learning about experimentation and scientific inquiry was seen to contribute to an individual s intellectual and moral improvement while in others it was viewed as a way to minimize public interference in institutional science John Rudolph shows that how we think about and teach science will either sustain or thwart future innovation and ultimately determine how science is perceived and received by the public Research in Education ,1974 DOD Pam United States.
