ICTES 2018 Robbi Rahim, Kadek Suranata, Ifdil Ifdil, Itsar Bolo Rangka, 2019-03-13 The technical program of The First ICTES 2018 consisted of 114 full papers. Aside from the high quality technical paper presentations we also held workshop and clinic manuscript that was carried out before the main track aims to strengthen the ability to write scientific publications. Coordination with the steering chairs Dr Kadek Suranata S Pd M Pd Kons and the members of organizing committee is essential for the success of the conference. We sincerely appreciate all the Advisory Boards for the constant support and guidance. It was also a great pleasure to work with such an excellent organizing committee team for their hard work in organizing and supporting the conference. In particular the Scientific Committee led by Cand Dr Robbi Rahim M Kom have completed the peer review process of technical papers and made a high quality technical program. We are also grateful to Students Conference chairs were leading by Ida Ayu Made Diah Paramiswari for their support and all the authors who submitted their papers to the First ICTES 2018. We strongly believe that ICTES conference provides a good forum for all academicians, researchers and practitioners to discuss all Educational science and technology aspects that are relevant to issues and challenge for sustainability in the 4th industrial revolution. We also expect that the future ICTES conference will be as successful and stimulating as indicated by the contributions presented in this volume.

Hursh, 2015-10-16 The End of Public Schools analyzes the effect of foundations, corporations and non governmental organizations on the rise of neoliberal principles in public education. By first contextualizing the privatization of education within the context of a larger educational crisis and with particular emphasis on the Gates Foundation and influential state and national politicians it describes how specific policies that limit public control are advanced across all levels. Informed by a thorough understanding of issues such as standardized testing, teacher tenure and charter schools David Hursh provides a political and pedagogical critique of the current school reform movement as well.

Superminds Thomas W. Malone, 2018-05-15 From the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence comes a fascinating look at the remarkable capacity for intelligence exhibited by groups of people and computers working together If you're like most people you probably believe that humans are the most intelligent animals on our planet But there's another kind of entity that can be far smarter groups of people In this groundbreaking book Thomas Malone the founding director of the MIT Center for Collective Intelligence shows how groups of people working together in superminds like hierarchies markets democracies and communities have been responsible for almost all human achievements in business government science and beyond And these collectively intelligent human groups are about to get much smarter Using dozens of striking examples and case studies Malone shows how computers can help create more intelligent superminds simply by connecting humans to one another in a variety of rich new ways And although it will probably happen more gradually than many people expect artificially intelligent computers will amplify the power of these superminds by doing increasingly complex kinds of thinking Together these changes will have far reaching implications for everything from the way we buy groceries and plan business strategies to how we respond to climate change and even for democracy itself By understanding how these collectively intelligent groups work we can learn how to harness their genius to achieve our human goals Drawing on cutting edge science and insights from a remarkable range of disciplines Superminds articulates a bold and utterly fascinating picture of the future that will change the ways you work and live both with other people and with computers
