Needs Assessment Resources

In last month's newsletter, we focused on comprehensive longitudinal data systems (CLDS), as well as the goals and next steps of the system. Three more Promise Neighborhoods are deep in the process of conducting the needs assessment; this newsletter shares promising practices and a few resources to support the process of conducting a needs assessment. The first column of the Journal of Community Improvement (JCI) featured an overview and entry into the needs assessment, and included perspectives from Jennifer Cooney of the Office for Family and Home Support of the Office of Community-Centered Additional resources will become available regarding needs assessment and data collection being conducted as the National Neighborhood Indicators Partnership we also as OII's initiative. As mentioned in the previous Neighborhood Watch, Francis Laine, author of the Building Communities That Work, provided a quick, annotated guide found on several of the current literature, interviews with current experts, and interviews with one of the 11 Promise Neighborhoods grantees. Also check out page 1 of this newsletter for needs assessment promising practices from the Do-It-Yourself Promise Neighborhood and the Building Communities That Work.

Community of Practice in Massachusetts

The three Promise Neighborhoods planning grantees in Massachusetts, the Commonwealth Center for Student Success, Southwest Community Center, and the United Way of Central Massachusetts, have been working closely together since the Promise planning grant was awarded in September 2010. From their own under the direction of Michael Chertok, the State's Commissioner of Elementary and Secondary Education to shape their efforts across the state, and then continued in concert by phone.

A study visit of three building a community of practice and connecting as a group with state resources is a recent accomplishment of a three early learning grant opportunity that will support the efforts to engage "lead research" facilities. The grant opportunity is limited only to the three PI planning grantees. On April 8, the three organizations will also participate in a Boston Promise Community to explore the important role of community in making positive change in urban neighborhoods.

Why Do Students Drop Out?

There is a consensus that these four indicators are the most telling:

- GRADE RETENTION - RISK
- "BELL WAVE" OR OVERAGE
- MISSING AGENDA
- MISSING INFORMATION
- FAILURE OF HOME ALIENATION

Diploma: It's More Than A Piece Of Paper

A drop-out factory is a high school where as many as 40 percent of the students who start as freshmen walk out their senior year. Most drop-out factories are in large cities or rural areas where poverty rates are high. A majority of the Promise Neighborhoods include schools that have higher than average drop-out rates. In fact, according to a 2009 study conducted by America's Promise Alliance, the graduation rates vary significantly in cities that are home to more Promise Neighborhoods programs and the surrounding suburbs. The city-suburb difference is considerable in New York (28.4% vs. 37%), Boston (27%), Philadelphia (21.4% vs. 34%), Los Angeles (19.7% vs. 34%), and Atlanta (18.7%).

Last month, the Baltimore Education Research Consortium (BERC) released a report titled Diploma: Graduation.

Each Grade Early Warning Indicator for Baltimore City Schools: Data for Schools and Regions. Why should we pay attention to what a Baltimore study reveals? The Baltimore Public Schools had the second largest disparity in graduation rates at 40%.

BERC also identified each grade as being a critical intervention point where many drop out programs are geared towards eighth and ninth graders.

America's Promise Alliance recently launched Graduation which is a national effort to end the high school drop-out crisis in the U.S.

More Promise Neighborhoods grantees have shown that how to address drop-out rates one week towards ending the cycle of poverty in your neighborhood, much more in one month, and share your best practices. Each that drop-out impact more than just your own neighborhood.
