Media Argumentation Douglas Walton, 2007-09-24 Media argumentation is a powerful force in our lives From political speeches to television commercials to war propaganda it can effectively mobilize political action influence the public and market products This book presents a new and systematic way of thinking about the influence of mass media in our lives showing the intersection of media sources with argumentation theory informal logic computational theory and theories of persuasion Using a variety of case studies that represent arguments that typically occur in the mass media Douglas Walton demonstrates how tools recently developed in argumentation theory can be usefully applied to the identification analysis and evaluation of media arguments He draws upon the most recent developments in artificial intelligence including dialogical theories of argument which he developed as well as speech act theory Each chapter presents solutions to problems central to understanding analyzing and criticizing media argumentation

Argumentation, Communication, and Fallacies Frans H. van Eemeren, Rob Grootendorst, 2016-07-22 This volume gives a theoretical account of the problem of analyzing and evaluating argumentative discourse After placing argumentation in a communicative perspective and then discussing the fallacies that occur when certain rules of communication are violated the authors offer an alternative to both the linguistically inspired descriptive and logically inspired normative approaches to argumentation The authors characterize argumentation as a complex speech act in a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion The various stages of a critical discussion are outlined and the communicative and interactional aspects of the speech acts performed in resolving a simple or complex dispute are discussed After dealing with crucial aspects of analysis and linking the evaluation of argumentative discourse to the analysis the authors identify the fallacies that can occur at various stages of discussion Their general aim is to elucidate their own pragma dialectical perspective on the analysis and evaluation of argumentative discourse bringing together pragmatic insight concerning speech acts and dialectical insight concerning critical discussion

Asking Big Questions Grenville J. R. Kent, 2014-06-27 What do educated urban people think about God and why What factors logical emotional experiential or intuitive incline them towards belief or towards unbelief How do they balance these factors Why do many seem to be swing voters comfortable sitting on the fence unmotivated to move far either way What common ground do they share with Christianity What are their objections to Christian belief and practice and their misunderstandings Why do many people describe intuitive and emotional attraction to believing in God but resist it intellectually What apologetic approaches would make most sense specifically to educated urban Australians What media products do they enjoy and trust And how should these insights influence apologetics Grenville Kent asks these questions in one Australian demographic to help target Big Questions a documentary film series for Christian apologetics Anyone interested in apologetics evangelical media and the application of marketing research to evangelism will be interested in this
