The Oxford Handbook of Identities in Organizations Andrew D. Brown,2020-01-09 Conceived as the meanings that individuals attach to their selves a substantial stockpile of theory related to identities accumulated across the arts social sciences and humanities over many decades continues to nourish contemporary research on self identities in organizations In times which are more reflexive narcissistic and fluid the identities of participants in organizations are increasingly less fixed and less certain making identity issues both more salient and more interesting Particular attention has been given to processes of identity construction often styled identity work Research has focused on how why and when such processes occur and their implications for organizing and individual group and organizational outcomes This has resulted in a burgeoning stream of research from discursive dramaturgical symbolic socio cognitive and psychodynamic perspectives that most often casts individuals efforts to fabricate identities as intentional relational and consequential Seemingly intractable debates centred on the nature of identities their relative stability or fluidity whether they are best regarded as coherent or fractured positive or not and how they are fabricated within relations of power combined with other conceptual issues continue to invigorate the field However these debates have also led to some scepticism regarding the future potential of identities research Yet as the chapters in this Handbook demonstrate there are considerable grounds for optimism that identity as root metaphor nexus concept and means to bridge levels of analysis has significant potential to generate multiple compelling streams of theorizing in organization and management studies

Handbook of Global Leadership and Followership Joan F. Marques,June Schmieder-Ramirez,Petros G. Malakyan,2023-03-29 This handbook integrates the best leadership and followership theories and practices between the

Global North West countries of Western individualistic cultures in Europe North America Australia and Oceania and the Global South East countries of Eastern collectivistic cultures in Asia Africa South America and South East Asian and Oceania There is a need to bring the Global North West and the Global South East together to address global challenges such as the climate change global hunger and poverty domestic and international terrorism social justice gender inequality and domestic and global abuse of human and natural resources This innovative volume proposes that the democratic leadership of the Global North West and the human centered followership of the Global South East can transform the world if leadership and followership values education and practices are integrated It utilizes findings from positive psychology social psychology organizational behavior and world religions and contemplative wisdom traditions to highlight the case for global leadership and followership Real Estate Record and Builders' Guide ,1884
