Parliament. House of Commons. Select Committee on Science and Technology,2014 The risks and benefits of participating in screening programmes for conditions and diseases like cancer are not consistently communicated by either the NHS or private health care providers the Science and Technology Committee has warned in a new report It is calling on the Government to ensure that a standardised process to produce screening information is introduced and that better communications training is provided to health care professionals A recently revised breast cancer screening leaflet for the 50 70 age group with its more explicit focus on helping women make an informed choice about whether screening is right for them marks a step in the right direction However the inquiry found that the principles followed to revise this leaflet have not been applied to the communications developed by other NHS screening programmes The Committee recommends that steps are immediately taken by the Government's advisor on screening the UK National Screening Committee UK NSC to devise and implement a standard process for producing information that facilitates informed choice It also recommends a clarification of what informed choice means for potential screening participants so that different screening programmes can be more effectively evaluated on their delivery of it MPs are also calling on the Office for National Statistics to validate the statistics presented in NHS screening information to resolve disagreement and confusion over their accuracy Sport and

Exercise Psychology Julia Schöler, Mirko Wegner, Henning Plessner, Robert C. Eklund, 2023-02-25 This textbook covers topics in sport and exercise psychology for students of psychology and sport science as well as for sport practitioners who want to understand topics in sport psychology in more detail and depth The book is divided into two main parts Theory and Application The first part covers the theoretical facets of sport and exercise psychology and the close link between theory and practice divided into the sub disciplines of psychology cognition motivation emotion personality and development and social processes The second part focuses on the applications of sport and exercise psychology in the context of performance and health With contributions from scholars across the globe the book offers an international and timely perspective on the key fundamentals of sport psychology Taken together these chapters provide a challenging yet accessible overview of the larger field of sport and exercise psychology This book is suitable for readers at different levels of competence supported with didactic elements learning objectives and learning control questions to find the right learning level Assessment of Solid-State Lighting, Phase Two National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Assessment of Solid-State Lighting, Phase 2, 2017-05-11 The standard incandescent light bulb which still works mainly as Thomas Edison invented it converts more than 90% of the consumed electricity into heat Given the availability of newer lighting technologies that convert a greater percentage of electricity into useful light there is potential to decrease the amount of energy used for lighting in both commercial and residential applications Although technologies such as compact fluorescent lamps CFLs have emerged in the past few decades and will help achieve the goal of increased energy efficiency solid state lighting SSL stands to play a large role in dramatically decreasing U S energy consumption for lighting Since the publication of the 2013 National Research Council report Assessment of Advanced Solid State Lighting the penetration of SSL has increased dramatically with a resulting savings in energy and costs that were foreshadowed by that study What was not anticipated then is the dramatic dislocation and restructuring of the SSL marketplace as cost reductions for light emitting diode LED components reduced profitability for LED manufacturers At the same time there has been the emergence of new applications for SSL which have the potential to create new markets and commercial opportunities for the SSL industry Assessment of Solid State Lighting

Phase Two discusses these aspects of change highlighting the progress of commercialization and acceptance of SSL and reviewing the technical advances and challenges in achieving higher efficacy for LEDs and organic light emitting diodes This report will also discuss the recent trends in SSL manufacturing and opportunities for new applications and describe the role played by the Department of Energy DOE Lighting Program in the development of SSL 30th Scientific-Experts
