Older Citizens and End-of-Life Care Malcolm Payne, 2017-02-22 Older people are like younger people citizens in the communities of the nations in which they live This book sees ageing as a life journey that incorporates a process of citizenizing in which people build their identity as part of their family and community But the social experience of illness frailty disability and reaching the end of life may de citizen older people by devaluing the social identity that comes from continuing social engagement We de citizen older people by emphasizing dependence on services and their cost to public expenditure instead of valuing the interdependence of participation and mutual respect This book argues that older people retain full citizenship for the whole of their lives up to the moment of death but what does this mean for health and social care In this groundbreaking book Malcolm Payne argues that social work with older people must build re citizenizing practice strategies to value both the common and the special aspects of the citizenship of older people Current models of social care and social work create dependency rather than relying on values of participative interdependence The failure to recognize the end of life as a crucial element in all social care and social work for older people means that the lessons learned in providing palliative and end of life care in healthcare have not been transferred to social care and the priorities of end of life care have not been adequately encompassed in social work with older people

Teaching Hot Topics Behrman House, Susan Freeman, 2003 Provides teachers with resources for bringing controversial contemporary issues to students such as abortion euthanasia death penalty and birth control using background materials scenarios textual study and suggestions for activities

Angels of Death Roger S. Magnusson, Peter Harry Ballis, 2002-01-01 This groundbreaking book uncovers the hidden world of illicit physician assisted suicide and euthanasia Through the frank and often troubling first hand accounts of health professionals who have been involved in assisted death the book records for the first time this secret but real area of medical and nursing practice Through face to face interviews with these angels of death Roger S Magnusson explores the social practices relationships and networks that constitute underground euthanasia How is assisted death actually practiced within health care settings What are the issues that surround the making of such a momentous decision How do health care workers justify their attitudes and actions in this area Angels of Death offers detailed answers to these questions and many others The doctors nurses and therapists who were interviewed pseudonymously for this study work in the HIV AIDS communities in the United States and Australia Their perspectives and practices their attitudes and feelings illuminate the assisted death debate and expose a variety of disturbing issues including the reality of botched attempts euthanasia without consent and unduly hasty measures to bring about death The testimony of medical practitioners combined with Magnusson s thoughtful assessment of the issues will be of intense interest to both opponents and advocates of proposals to legalize euthanasia Ethical Issues in Palliative Care Pat A. Webb, 2005 Initial definitions and some theoretical input leads on to a practice based text which will enable people from a variety of professions to discuss and debate issues familiar to their practice
