Wolter, 2021 Through eight compelling stories of restorative literacies Wolter explores the complex relationships among cognition metacognition identity behavior in schools and literacies Based on the principles of restorative justice restorative literacies are designed to help educators repair harm restore relationships and expand the concept of literacy for some of our most disenfranchised and disengaged students Restorative literacies are not just about growing readers and writers per se They are about creating a community of care that involves students teachers administrators and families so that all students experience racially culturally linguistically and economically responsive instruction in multiple forms of literacies Drawing on the author's rich experiences cultivating a love of reading among her students and studying the practices of other educators Restorative Literacies advances a provocative set of examples about centering the voice and stories of people in our quest to humanize and reimagine how we care for about and with others Book Features Presents a literacy model of restorative justice that includes participation from teachers principals administrators and parents Contains engaging narratives from elementary and secondary schools to illustrate concepts and strategies Explores compassionate listening as a conscious process of assuring that all involved are fully heard a skill that requires removing assumptions judgement and bias Identifies practices that take a positive view of learners as opposed to referring students to special education Uses restoration as an alternative to pushout practices that are designed to control students and often prevent them from reaching their capacity Restorative Literacies offers a refreshing perspective on the power of story in cultivating emancipatory restorative and transformative contexts of learning teaching and development During these times of civil and civic unrest this is the book we need in education From the Foreword by H Richard Milner IV Cornelius Vanderbilt Chair of Education Vanderbilt University
