Learning to Improve Anthony S. Bryk,Louis M. Gomez,Alicia Grunow,Paul G. LeMahieu,2015-03-01 As a field education has largely failed to learn from experience Time after time promising education reforms fall short of their goals and are abandoned as other promising ideas take their place In Learning to Improve the authors argue for a new approach Rather than implementing fast and learning slow they believe educators should adopt a more rigorous approach to improvement that allows the field to learn fast to implement well Using ideas borrowed from improvement science the authors show how a process of disciplined inquiry can be combined with the use of networks to identify adapt and successfully scale up promising interventions in education Organized around six core principles the book shows how networked improvement communities can bring together researchers and practitioners to accelerate learning in key areas of education Examples include efforts to address the high rates of failure among students in community college remedial math courses and strategies for improving feedback to novice teachers Learning to Improve offers a new paradigm for research and development in education that promises to be a powerful driver of improvement for the nation s schools and colleges The Publisher ,1916 Issues in Aging Mark Novak,2018-02-02 Issues in Aging combines social psychological biological and philosophical perspectives to present a multifaceted picture of aging Novak illustrates both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age This text helps students understand the tremendous variability in aging and introduces them to careers working with older adults This new edition reflects the continued changes in the way we age The fourth edition has been updated to include emerging issues in aging These include the prevalence of HIV AIDs in later life current research on mental potential in old age the creation of age friendly cities and new options for end of life care Each chapter begins with a set of learning objectives to guide students in their reading and concludes with a list of main points questions for discussion or study suggested readings and relevant web sites to consult Each chapter also includes up to date charts and graphs as well as key terms to help students understand the issues presented Break out boxes reveal the human side of aging through the stories of individuals in real life and in the media British Books ,1916 Thinking with Feeling Douglas P.

Newton,2014-03-05 Are emotions good or bad for thinking and learning Have you ever wondered why a good lesson of one year falls flat in another Why do students behave the way they do Teachers are expected to foster productive thought yet the neglect of emotion in the classroom in favour of intellect means teaching and learning is often not as effective as it might be Thinking with Feeling explores what we mean by productive thought its interrelationship with mood and emotions how teachers can manage that interaction to improve teaching and learning and what teacher trainers could do about it Synthesising the most important international research in the field it offers a framework for productive purposeful thought deduction understanding creative thinking wise thinking and critical thinking and explains how mood and emotion can support and also impede learning It considers the effect of the interplay of emotion and intellect on classroom behaviour on students public performance and performance in tests and how emotional labour can affect the teacher Illustrated with examples from practice this challenging thoughtful study offers education professionals a basis for understanding the interaction of emotions and cognition and making it a successful partnership in order to improve teaching and learning
