Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-09-19      ICTES 2018 Robbi Rahim, Kadek Suranata, Ifdil Ifdil, Itsar Bolo
Rangka, 2019-03-13 The technical program of The First ICTES 2018 consisted of 114 full papers. Aside from the high quality technical paper presentations, we also held workshop and clinic manuscript that was carried out before the main track aims to strengthen the ability to write scientific publications. Coordination with the steering chairs Dr Kadek Suranata S Pd M Pd Kons and the members of organizing committee is essential for the success of the conference. We sincerely appreciate all the Advisory Boards for the constant support and guidance. It was also a great pleasure to work with such an excellent organizing committee team for their hard work in organizing and supporting the conference. In particular, the Scientific Committee led by Cand Dr Robbi Rahim M Kom have completed the peer review process of technical papers and made a high quality technical program. We are also grateful to Students Conference chairs were leading by Ida Ayu Made Diah Paramiswari for their support and all the authors who submitted their papers to the First ICTES 2018. We strongly believe that ICTES conference provides a good forum for all academicians, researchers and practitioners to discuss all Educational science and technology aspects that are relevant to issues and challenge for sustainability in the 4th industrial revolution. We also expect that the future ICTES conference will be as successful and stimulating as indicated by the contributions presented in this volume.

The End of Public Schools David W. Hursh, 2015-10-16 The End of Public Schools analyzes the effect of foundations, corporations and non governmental organizations on the rise of neoliberal principles in public education. By first contextualizing the privatization of education within the context of a larger educational crisis and with particular emphasis on the Gates Foundation and influential state and national politicians, it describes how specific policies that limit public control are advanced across all levels. Informed by a thorough understanding of issues such as standardized testing, teacher tenure and charter schools, David Hursh provides a political and pedagogical critique of the current school reform.

How We Teach Science John L. Rudolph, 2019-06-01 A former Wisconsin high school science teacher makes the case that how and why we teach science matters especially now that its legitimacy is under attack Why teach science The answer to that question will determine how it is taught Yet despite the enduring belief in this country that science should be taught there has been no enduring consensus about how or why This is especially true when it comes to teaching scientific process Nearly all of the basic knowledge we have about the world is rock solid The science we teach in high schools in particular laws of motion the structure of the atom cell division DNA replication the universal speed limit of light is accepted as the way nature works Everyone also agrees that students and the public more generally should understand the methods used to gain this knowledge But what exactly is the scientific method Ever since the late 1800s scientists and science educators have grappled with that question Through the years they've advanced an assortment of strategies ranging from the laboratory method to the five step method to science as inquiry to no method at all How We Teach Science reveals that each strategy was influenced by the intellectual cultural and political circumstances of the time In some eras learning about experimentation and scientific inquiry was seen to contribute to an individual's intellectual and moral improvement while in others it was viewed as a way to minimize public interference in institutional science John Rudolph shows that how we think about and teach science will either sustain or thwart future innovation and ultimately determine how science is perceived and received
