Treagust, Reinders Duit, Hans E. Fischer, 2017-07-24 This volume is important because despite various external representations such as analogies metaphors and visualizations being commonly used by physics teachers educators and researchers the notion of using the pedagogical functions of multiple representations to support teaching and learning is still a gap in physics education The research presented in the three sections of the book is introduced by descriptions of various psychological theories that are applied in different ways for designing physics teaching and learning in classroom settings The following chapters of the book illustrate teaching and learning with respect to applying specific physics multiple representations in different levels of the education system and in different physics topics using analogies and models different modes and in reasoning and representational competence When multiple representations are used in physics for teaching the expectation is that they should be successful To ensure this is the case the implementation of representations should consider design principles for using multiple representations Investigations regarding their effect on classroom communication as well as on the learning results in all levels of schooling and for different topics of physics are reported The book is intended for physics educators and their students at universities and for physics teachers in schools to apply multiple representations in physics in a productive way

Physics and Literature Aura Heydenreich, Klaus Mecke, 2021-12-20 Physics and Literature is a unique collaboration between physicists literary scholars and philosophers the first collection of essays to examine together how science and literature beneath their practical differences share core dimensions forms of questioning thinking discovering and communicating insights This book advances an in depth exploration of relations between physics and literature from both perspectives It turns around the tendency to discuss relations between literature and science in one sided and polarizing ways The collection is the result of the inaugural conference of ELINAS the Erlangen Center for Literature and Natural Science an initiative dedicated to building bridges between literary and scientific research ELINAS revitalizes discussion of science literature interconnections with new topics ideas and angles by organizing genuine dialogue among participants across disciplinary lines The essays explore how scientific thought and practices are conditioned by narrative and genre fiction models and metaphors and how science in turn feeds into the meaning making of literary and philosophical texts These interdisciplinary encounters enrich reflections on epistemology cognition and aesthetics
