To Whom It May Concern:

Autumn Vincent completed the lab portion of an elementary literacy course in my senior kindergarten classroom at Washington Elementary School in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin during the second semester of the 2007-2008 school year. Autumn came one morning a week and was a dedicated, helpful addition to our classroom. She helped provide differentiated instruction during math and literacy centers, taught a few literacy lessons to the entire class, facilitated with activity center time, assisted the children in their writing, and helped with the various challenges and needs involved in teaching 26 five and six year-old children. Throughout the year Autumn proved to be consistently dependable, capable, and responsible. Her positive, professional attitude was a great encouragement to my 26 students and me.

Autumn has a wonderful rapport with children. Her kind and caring manner helps her build relationships and excitement about learning. Autumn uses active listening, responsive comments, and thoughtful questioning techniques to assist children when they need to work out conflicts with peers or build strategies as problem solvers in challenging learning situations. She is observant and perceptive of the learning needs of the children and readily adapts instruction and support accordingly.

I highly recommend Autumn Vincent for any future opportunities that are available in the field of education. When she completes her degree, Autumn will be a great asset to our profession and any community of learners that is blessed with her presence.

The Arkansas Teacher, 1919    The School Journal, 1882    Why Kids Can't Read Patrick R. Riccards, Phyllis Blaunstein, Reid Lyon, 2014-12-18 Nearly forty percent of all fourth graders in this country cannot read at grade level and this number rises to sixty percent for children coming from poor families This gap in learning increases as students go through grade school and is a primary reason for school failure Ironically this problem comes even after comprehensive research demonstrates that nearly all children can learn to read if taught using proven effective instruction Here the authors describe the principles of this research in language that non educators can understand and educators can use It discusses how to recognize whether the research on reading is being used appropriately and if not how to make that happen Through the eyes of parents and educators who have succeeded in their own struggles to change the educational system the book provides the reader with the tools and knowledge for transforming the way reading is taught in their children s classrooms This book takes the reader step by step through an understanding of the research on reading and ways in which a single determined person can make a difference in the learning ability of every student in our nation s schools Part One is a series of chapters written by individuals who discuss what they experienced during these battles and what made them successful Part Two is written by a series of experts who describe how they have overcome the challenges involved in creating widespread change in school systems This second edition also includes information on Common Core State Standards increased testing and accountability efforts and related policy issues that directly impact how children learn to read The appendix is filled with resources people places sample tools a glossary and bibliography to help the reader Some key features of this book include Easy to understand descriptions of research First person stories of how they have helped teach their kids to read Clear understanding of scientifically based reading and how it can be applied to the classroom Summary of reading related Common Core State Standards Sample tools for parent advocates Resource lists of government officials organizations that can help with reading efforts
