

INSTRUCTIONS

OF SERIES AUDIO FILTERS

Your audio filter was fully tested before shipment. Please study the instructions below to obtain best results. If you require parts not supplied, please obtain these at a local radio store since we do not store them.

A. INITIAL WORKUP

Model QF-1. Plug the QF-1 into your receiver's phone jack. Obtain an adapter if also not compatible. Disconnect any intermediate speaker or any high-impedance phone or output jack. To avoid hum or distortion with low-impedance phones, which are greatly preferred, use a separate speaker. (Speed is in case of trouble.) The QF-1 lever may also be connected to the receiver's speaker terminals. Be sure that the cable shield (connected to the QF-1 chassis) is connected to the grounded speaker terminal. Otherwise, hum may be picked up. Since this is more, but a few types of CB radios and some marine radio radios require a resistor across their speaker or phone output otherwise their audio outputs are not biased properly when connected to the QF-1 lever. Try a resistor in the range of 50 to 100K. Connecting the QF-1 ground to a source of voltage (e.g., a radio's speaker output or power supply) can quickly burn out the filter, not covered by the warranty. If you wish, however, if added, may do this) never connect anything but a passive load (e.g., speaker, another amp, lamp) to the filter output. Note: The filter has a resistor of 1000 ohms in series and may be connected to virtually any source.

B. INSTALLATION

An audio filter has an effect roughly analogous to a tone control on a hi-fi set, i.e., it filters signals you hear in on your receiver and presents or rejects frequencies you desire. Of course your filter's response is much sharper and more flexible than a single tone control on even with narrow-band signals. There are three adjustments:

1. Function Select Switch.

This switch selects (left to right) a peak, notch, or lowpass response. The peak (bandpass) function passes a narrow band of frequencies, while the notch function rejects a narrow band of frequencies. The peak or notch frequency is set by turning the frequency control. The lowpass function rejects high-frequency signals above the frequency set on the frequency control.

2. Selectivity Control (Peak).

This control adjusts the width of the notch and bandpass responses, and also affects the lowpass roll-off and notch depth. Bandwidths from as small as 40-50 Hz to essentially flat are available. The notch and peak widths are similar with full rotation, but the notch depth decreases with more rotation (full clockwise rotation). This control should not normally be rotated more than 60% towards its "peak." Full rotation deepens notch depth and may lead to ringing in "bandpass."

3. Frequency Control (Peak).

This control moves the notch, notch, and lowpass frequencies from approx. 150 Hz to 1500 Hz. This leaves the active range of useful communications frequencies. "Blocked" rejection selects lower frequencies.

Notes: Volume coming out of the filter is adjusted with your receiver's audio control. Note that the filter retains its full selectivity regardless of source, level, or slight distortion, i.e., no "impedance matching" is required.

C. CAREFUL ADJUSTMENTS

Your filter is best adjusted by ear to match the prevailing conditions. Because of its numerous adjustments, you'll find that if it can't pull the signal out, nothing can. However, a few hours practice will be needed to learn its operation. The following table will aid you.

CONDITION	TYPICAL ADJUSTMENTS
Desired CW signal	Peak. Adjust selectivity near full (clockwise 100). Peak desired station using frequency control. Use as much selectivity rotation as required for conditions. Note that maximum selectivity produces the highest gain at the peak.
SWR, AM, CB, FM, or broadcast station on heterodyne or whistle.	Lowpass. Rotate selectivity anticlockwise or as far as possible without producing audible ringing (not critical). Turn frequency control for desired rejection of high frequencies. Turn greater than 50% rotation makes signals busy. Because important voice frequencies are rejected.
Interference, whistle, TV, oscillator radiation (beating station), or code station interference with desired signal. Also for CW beats.	Notch. Rotate selectivity clockwise or more. Adjust frequency control to reject undesired signal. Large selectivity rotations yield the narrowest and shallowest notch; also the hardest to tune. Therefore, rotate selectivity no more than required to avoid rejecting the desired signal. Rotate to help find the correct rejection frequency. It may help to momentarily switch to peak, peak the interference, then switch back to notch. The peaked signal is then rejected. A slight frequency tweak may help since peak and notch frequencies may not track perfectly.
SWR, AM, CB, FM, or broadcast station.	Order some conditions the following may also be useful: 1. Peak. Selectivity 50% to 60% rotated. Frequency adjusted for best clarity. Sometimes very useful. 2. Notch. Selectivity 0% to 25% rotated. Frequency 0% to 25% rotated. Produces an extremely sharp cutoff of high frequencies. If a heterodyne appears, you can quickly turn controls as above. Preferred by many CB and 160, 80, and 40 meter operators for voice reception.
Weak CW	As an alternative or more across the speaker or phone is a big aid in hearing an extremely weak signal. Especially if you listen below the noise ceiling. Also, you can pick up 10 dB or more in sensitivity if you use POC, a pen recorder, and read at 3-4 WPM 800 below.
Strong signal	A "flat" response is obtained by 1) Lowpass. Selectivity 50%. Frequency 0%. 2) Notch. Select. 100% Freq. 0%. 3) Peak. Select. 0%. Freq. 50%.

Other notes:

Full selectivity in peak is obtained only over the normal voice reception range of 150 to 1500 Hz. Use less than 60% selectivity at high frequencies. Full selectivity in lowpass produces an effect similar to peak, but is not recommended because of reduced rejection of low frequencies. For use at a specific frequency above 1500 Hz, align the filter at the desired frequency for best results. (see below)
