The Violence of Conservation in Africa Ramutsindela, Maano, Matose, Frank, Mushonga, Tafadzwa, 2022-01-11 Offering insights on violence in conservation this timely book demonstrates how and why the state in Africa pursues conservation objectives to the detriment of its citizens It focuses on how the dehumanization of black people and indigenous groups the insertion of global green agendas onto the continent a lack of resource sovereignty and neoliberal conservation account for why violence is a permanent feature of conservation in Africa

Natural Resources Management and Biological Sciences Edward R Rhodes, Humood Naser, 2021-02-17 The natural resources of the Earth are indispensable for the survival of humans plants and animals and for the state of biodiversity The way they are managed determines the extent to which they will be preserved for future generations Climate change underscores the need for the proper use of natural resources This book brings together reviews of literature and the results of research studies on the status and management of soil water plant and wildlife resources especially as they relate to the biological sciences in Africa Asia Europe North America and Latin America It covers work on classification and inventories impacts of anthropogenic activities and exploitation and conservation The book will be of interest to scientists and practitioners of natural resource management worldwide

The Ethics of Participation in Environmental Field Research Lydia Gibson, Julia Sauma, 2025-07-28 Local participation is increasingly seen as a central and ethical part of environmental research As such many environmental efforts are becoming increasingly participatory Participation as a string of literature has shown has many political economic social and epistemic consequences and ethics is fluid polyvalent and contextual Right is right wrong is wrong is dangerous rhetoric that centres western experiences and forecloses the myriad realities and relations bundled within and forced upon marginalised experiences Both participation and ethics as concepts and praxis cast decades long shadows over field research particularly in anthropology yet much of these discussions are left at the threshold of interdisciplinary spaces where participation traditional and Indigenous knowledge and co production are brought in to sanitise and legitimise environmental actions Where are our lessons learned and what ought we to make of their absence The first half of this volume offers ethnographic examples that allow us to begin to ask whether participation in the capitalist machinery and colonial legacies of academic knowledge is ever even ethical The second half of the book is dedicated to anti solutions refusals to define problems and approaches in fixed closed terms from which equations calculations and solutions can be derived This book provokes important new discussions about ethical participation in environmental field research by bringing to the fore the fluid nature of both ethics and participation The volume aims to provide critical intervention for students and researchers across natural and social sciences whose fieldwork includes engagement with local communities and stakeholders as well as conservation policymakers and practitioners who consult and work with local communities

Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks,2015-05-08 The aggressive poaching of rhinos needs to be countered with equal aggression So argued Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands the founder president of the World Wide Fund for Nature WWF at a 1987 meeting with John Hanks conservation expert and WWF s head in Africa The result was Operation Lock a secret initiative funded by Prince Bernhard and staffed by former SAS operatives Operation Lock set up headquarters in Johannesburg and extended its reach into neighbouring states Namibia Zambia Botswana Swaziland and Mozambique Its operatives planned to train game rangers to pose as rhino horn traders in order to entrap buyers and to expose the kingpins who were driving the trade It was a controversial approach all the more because it was working within apartheid South Africa in the late 1980s When the existence of the project was finally leaked WWF denied any involvement and John Hanks took the fall In Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks finally tells the story of these explosive events from 25 years ago As a leading international authority on conservation he also deals with the scourge of rhino poaching up to the present and gives powerful and controversial criticism of some of the current policies to curb poaching

Committee on Science, Space, and Technology. Subcommittee on Natural Resources, Agriculture Research, and Environment, 1988 Conservation Criminology Meredith L. Gore, 2017-03-14

This important new text introduces conservation criminology as the interdisciplinary study of environmental exploitation and risks at the intersection of human and natural systems Taking an interdisciplinary approach the book enhances understanding of the various human and organizational behaviors that pose risks to the environment humans and drive conservation crime As human population growth global market economies climate change deforestation and illegal exploitation of natural resources continue to increase academic research from numerous disciplines is needed to address these challenges Conservation Criminology promotes thinking about how unsustainable natural resources exploitation is a cause and a consequence of social conflict Case studies profiled in the book demonstrate this cause and effect type situation as well as innovative approaches for reducing risks to people and the environment This text encourages readers to consider how humans behave in response to environmental risks and the various mechanisms that constitute effective and ineffective approaches to enforcement of wildlife crimes including environmental and conservation policy Case studies from the USA Latin America Africa and Asia highlight corruption in conservation global trade in electronic waste illegal fishing illegal logging human wildlife conflict technology and space water insecurity wildlife disease and wildlife poaching Taken together chapters expand the reader's perspective and employ tools to understand and address environmental crimes and risks and to provide novel empirical evidence for positive change With established contributors providing interdisciplinary and global perspectives this book establishes a foundation for the emerging field of conservation criminology

Gaia's Web Karen Bakker, 2024-04-16 A riveting exploration of one of the most important dilemmas of our time will digital technology accelerate environmental degradation or could it play a role in ecological regeneration At the uncanny edge of the scientific frontier Gaia's Web explores the promise and pitfalls the Digital Age holds for the future of our planet Instead of the Internet of Things environmental scientist and tech entrepreneur Karen Bakker asks why not consider the Internet of Living Things At the surprising and inspiring confluence of our digital and ecological futures Bakker explores how the tools of the Digital Age could be mobilized to address our most pressing environmental challenges from climate change to biodiversity loss Interspersed with ten elegiac enigmatic parables each of which is based on an existing technology Gaia's Web evokes the conundrums we face as the World Wide Web intertwines with the Web of Life A new generation of innovators is deploying digital technology to come to the aid of the planet using spy satellites to track down environmental criminals inviting animals to the Metaverse and biohacking Frankenstein like biobots as environmental sentinels But will they end up doing more harm than good In an engaging take on conservation technology Bakker looks at the digital tech applications to environmental issues from predatory harvesting of environmental data to human bycatch and eco surveillance capitalism If we address these issues and mobilize digitally mediated forms of citizen science she argues digital tech could help reverse environmental harms and advance environmental sustainability And in the process Big Tech might be transformed for the better With its uniquely broad scope combining insights from computer science ecology engineering environmental science and environmental law Gaia s Web introduces profoundly novel ways of addressing our most pressing environmental challenges mitigating climate change protecting endangered species and creating new possibilities for ecological justice by empowering nonhumans to participate in environmental regulation
