This book explains in depth the issues and challenges faced by rice farmers in India in relation to production and productivity and the possible adaptation strategies to climate change Based on five years of groundbreaking research on emerging trends in cultivation in major rice growing regions in India it begins by describing production and yield trends across different rice growing regions It then offers a comprehensive review of relevant literature and the quantification methodologies and approaches used to analyze the impact of climate change The book also analyzes climate change impacts on rice productivity and production applying field tested quantification methods such as the Just Pope production function where time series and cross section data are simultaneously used for all regions The results are presented for five geographical regions of India northern eastern western central and southern for better comparison and readability The analyses cover scenarios for both mid century 2021 2050 and end century 2071 2100 and in the context of climate change they also incorporate both medium and high carbon emission scenarios Thus the future rice production and productivity trends are clearly projected for making necessary interventions Lastly the book outlines the essentials of an enabling environment policy and discusses the institutional and policy options necessary to ensure sustainable rice production in India It also makes the case for introducing appropriate and affordable adaptation strategies to support farmers in different rice growing regions The cost benefit analysis of strategies presented in this book provides an invaluable tool for officials at agriculture departments planning up scaling of agricultural productivity The projections are also useful for policy makers and planners developing future investment plans to support rice production in their country Overall this book is of interest to a wide audience including professionals and business enterprises dealing such as yield or net income to multiple objectives of increasing outputs while conserving natural resources Many pathways towards enhancement of Water Productivity WP are directly related to improving overall farm agronomic management irrigation fertilization plant density plant protection etc while external measures must be applied to ensure sustainability of introduced good practices lack of input markets scarce knowledge poor infrastructures water regulations etc Thus introducing irrigation practices to farmers must undergo a step wise process to ensure that costs do not outweigh achievable benefits and both institutional and technical environment are capable to sustain results This is the case in smallholders schemes where farmers are poorly resourced In order to address these issues the current policy guide presents a combined methodology which involves practical experiences drawn from FAO work in the three countries as well as researchers results to line up a set of feasible measures to improving WP
