Data Visualization

Learn to use which chart type is the first question you may ask yourself when building an application. Take a look in this file, and you will get an idea of how to turn your data into an effective way. Bar plot, waterfall, bubble, butterfly, and more chart displays are introduced. Copy/paste objects from the application into yours and modify the settings to fit to your needs.

Executive Dashboard

This application contains the information that executives often use in their organization may be looking for. Within the KPI task, there are performance indicators for sales as well as expenses and accounts receivable. The application also includes inventory data and a what-if analysis task that provides a forecasting view including an increase or decrease in price and/or cost, calculate the company's margin. Because of the detailed view within the application, the Executive Dashboard can provide added by both executives and sales people track all aspects of the sales order process.

Extension Examples

Using extensions, you can represent a subwindow object and use it in your application. In this example, you will see a calendar and an organization chart, a US heat map, a bubble chart, a calendar view and others. Please take a look at the file included in the Extensions folder where examples are stored on your machine.
