Seymour,2012-12-06 The papers in this volume were presented at an international symposium held in South Australia on September 8 10 1983 The purpose of the meeting was to present the comparative physiology of gas exchange water balance and energet ics of developing vertebrate embryos contributions were invited from leading research workers in an attempt to represent the forefront of investigation of all vertebrate classes and to promote a broadly comparative approach to the study of embryonic physiology These proceedings therefore reflect the current level of research activity focus ing on each group of vertebrates While considerable expansion and specializa tion has occurred in the area of avian embryos over the last decade work on reptilian embryos is less developed and that on fish and amphibians is still in its infancy Although a great deal is known about respiration and metabolism in embryos of placental mammals the physiology associated with the curious mode of development of monotreme and marsupial embryos has not been examined until recently In this symposium the well studied vertebrate classes are repre sented primarily by specific research papers that document original work These are balanced by more extensive reviews of the lesser known classes Questions Concerning Aristotle's On Animals (The Fathers of the Church, Mediaeval Continuation, Volume 9) Albertus,2008 After the Latin translation of Aristotelian works outside the logica vetus began in earnest in twelfth century Spain it remained to Scholastic philosophers to assimilate the new materials Although many individuals commented on the logica nova and on some of Aristotle s books on natural philosophy Albert the Great is one of only a very few Scholastics to comment on the entire collection of Aristotle s biological works This text the Questions concerning Aristotle s On Animals Quaestiones super de animalibus recovered only at the beginning of the twentieth century and never before translated in its entirety represents Conrad of Austria s report on a series of disputed questions that Albert the Great addressed in Cologne ca 1258 The Questions in nineteen books mixes two distinct genres the scholastic quaestio with arguments pro et contra a determination and answers to the objections and the straightforward question and response found for example in The Prose Salernitan

Questions Here even more clearly perhaps than in his slightly later and much larger paraphrastic commentary On Animals De animalibus Albert adduces his own views often criticizing other medieval physicians and natural philosophers on comparative anatomy human physiology sexuality procreation and embryology This translation based on the critical edition that appeared in the Cologne edition of Albert's work helps to explain the title patron saint of scientists bestowed upon Albert by Pope Pius XII This work should find its audience among medievalists and historians of science and culture More so than the massive On Animals it should prove useful in the classroom as an encyclopedia or handbook of medieval life ABOUT THE TRANSLATORS Irven M Resnick is professor of philosophy and religion and Chair of Excellence in Judaic Studies at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga Kenneth F Kitchell Jr is professor of classics at the University of Massachusetts Amherst
