

Making Inferences Black Beauty

When things are not explained directly to a text, you can use clues to reach a logical conclusion. This is called inference.

Read the short story around then answer the questions in full sentences.

Black Beauty The Autobiography of a Horse By Anna Sewall

"To my dear and beloved Father,
when life, as low that for you,
has been devoted to the welfare of others,
the love that is affectionately returned."

The Hunt (Excerpt)

Before I was five years old, a circumstance happened which I have never forgotten. It was early in the spring when had been a little past in the night, and a light was still hanging over the woods and meadows. I and the other colts were looking at the lower part of the field where we lived, quite in the distance, when suddenly like the cry of dogs, the voices of the other colts, we heard grunts to come, and said, "There are the hounds!" and immediately started off, followed by the rest of us to the upper part of the field, where we could look over the hedge and we heard grunts repeated. My mother and our mother's old milking mare were also standing near, and seemed to know all about it.

"They have found a hare," said my mother, "and if they were this way we shall see the hare."

And soon the dogs were all leaving down the field of young where most to come, I heard several such a noise as they made. They did not bark, nor neigh, nor whin, but kept on a "get up as it get up as it" in the top of their voices. After that came a number of us on foot, some of them running great rates, all galloping as fast as they could. The old horse started and looked eagerly after them, and our young colts wanted to be galloping with them, but we could not do that," said my mother and just then a hare was with crushed by and made for the woods. "I am an old horse, and have seen much a great deal, I never get could make out why men are so full of parts, they often have indignation, often speak great words, and run up the road all for a hare or a fox, or a dog, that they could get more easily other way that we are only horses, and don't know."

were soon away into the fields down down, but it seemed as if they had in a moment the dog left off barking, and we stood every one with their in the ground.

"How fast the word!" said the old horse, "perhaps the hare will get off it's head!" I said.

"I don't know what hare, (only enough it may be one of our own kind) the words say, but they are just will do for the dogs and here it was!" and before long the dogs began their "get up as it" again, and back came grunts as full speed, making straight for our meadow in the where the high bank and hedge marking the track.
