Coe,Henry Wai-chung Yeung,2015-04-30 Accelerating processes of economic globalization have fundamentally reshaped the organization of the global economy towards much greater integration and functional interdependence through cross border economic activity In this interconnected world system a new form of economic organization has emerged Global Production Networks GPNs This brings together a wide array of economic actors most notably capitalist firms state institutions labour unions consumers and non government organizations in the transnational production of economic value National and sub national economic development in this highly interdependent global economy can no longer be conceived of and understood within the distinct territorial boundaries of individual countries and regions Instead global production networks are organizational platforms through which actors in these different national or regional economies compete and cooperate for a larger share of the creation transformation and capture of value through transnational economic activity They are also vehicles for transferring the value captured between different places This book ultimately aims to develop a theory of global production networks that explains economic development in the interconnected global economy While primarily theoretical in nature it is well grounded in cutting edge empirical work in the parallel and highly impactful strands of social science literature on the changing organization of the global economy relating to global commodity chains GCC global value chains GVC and global production networks GPN

5G NR Modelling in MATLAB Tulsı Pawan Fowdur, Madhav Singh Indoonundon, Dragorad A. Milovanovic, Zoran S. Bojkovic, 2024-06-30 5G is the fifth generation of wireless technology and NR stands for a new radio interface and radio access technology for cellular networks i.e. a physical connection method for radio based communication. It is a powerful platform that supports a wide range of services that includes enhanced mobile broadband massive machine type communication and ultra reliability and low latency covering several vertical industries such as e health transportation energy media and factories automation. This book provides a detailed description of the fundamental aspects of 5G. It gives an in depth coverage of the network architecture of 5G by considering both the network reference point architecture and the service based architecture. It also describes all the user and control plane protocols including the standalone and non standalone architecture options. The radio access technologies such as the waveforms used in 5G the multi access and duplexing techniques as well as the resource allocation schemes are treated in details. Additionally the physical layer signal processing blocks of 5G NR are covered in depth with elaborate numerical examples to illustrate the functioning of each block in the 5G downlink transmitter and receiver chain. The main originality of this book is the detailed illustration of the 5G NR pre processing steps as well as Matlab simulation models with explanation on the codes to allow for a seamless understanding of the principles. In general this book is meant for anyone with a basic engineering background who would be interested to acquire a solid foundation in the fundamental concepts of 5G NR Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 2000
