Eduard Böhl's (1836-1903) Concept for a Re-emergence of Reformation Thought Thomas R. V. Forster, 2009 Nineteenth century continental theology is usually associated with the classic liberal Protestantism of Schleiermacher and Ritschl On the other side of the theological divide there was the Dutch Neo Calvinist school a sharp reaction to liberalism Yet the theological realm of that era also included the Kohlbrügge school which founded its theological method upon the Old Testament and re read and applied the documents of the Reformation for its time The most important representative of this school is Eduard Böhl 1836 1903 who advocated a return to Reformed doctrine and church order and a strong Christological reading of the Old Testament He also rejected historical criticism for which he was subjected to censure Moving into the field of systematics Böhl suggested a new reading of the image of God His peculiar understanding of the imago Dei was also his biggest contribution to theological anthropology this in turn influenced his views on Christology and salvation Although Böhl saw himself as a Reformed theologian he would cross swords with those who claimed the same for themselves Böhl especially valued the teachings of Martin Luther whom he held as a better exegete than the Genevan Reformer Böhl's theology is best captured as Reformation theology within the context of the Kohlbr gge school Although the names of Luther and Calvin are well known in church history and to a lesser degree so is Kohlbr gge s B hl s is not This historico theological account of B hl s life and work sheds some rare but much needed shafts of light on a theologian who has wrongfully fallen into oblivion
