

Graduation Speech

Hello. It is an honor for me to be here tonight to bring greetings and congratulations from the school board.

As I began thinking about what I should say to you, I discovered that I could go on for hours talking about your years at (name of school) High School . . . about the experiences you've had which prepared you for this day and for the future. I began making notes about all the advice I should share with you and about all of the many topics I wanted to cover.

Then a friend reminded me about the fate of the famous Greek philosopher, Socrates, who lived a long, long time ago.

Socrates was very intelligent. But Socrates gave long speeches, and his friends killed him.

Since I am no Socrates . . . nor do I want to end up like Socrates . . . I will be brief and to the point.

Tonight (number of graduates) seniors are graduating from (name of school) High School. The room is packed with your friends and relatives, and every person here is proud of you . . . of your accomplishments . . . and of the goals that you have reached. If each of us were to write down a definition of a successful graduate, we would quickly discover that some of the same words and phrases would be repeated over and over again. Common themes would be – dedication, perseverance, integrity, honesty, conscientiousness, dependability and hard work.

From all of the terms used to describe graduates, the one I think should receive top billing is "winner". Each and every one of you is a winner! You have demonstrated through hard work, dependability, conscientiousness,

Parents Graduation Speech To Child:

Listen: How Child and Student Voice Can Change the World Siobhán Keenan Fitzgerald, 2024-08-01 Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC 1989 articulates every child's right to have their voice heard in matters that affect them. Yet acceptance of this right is sometimes slow and there are barriers to effective implementation. This vitally important book aims to accelerate acceptance of this right by bridging the gap between theory and practice, empowering adults to act as advocates and facilitators of children using their voices within our homes, schools, and wider communities. Divided into thirteen chapters, Listen invites readers to connect the concept of child and student voice meaningfully with the development of all children's physical voices and modes of communication. Topics explored include but are not limited to: Current research on student voice including an examination of public speaking within primary schools; Advocating for a school-wide focus on supporting student voice; Best practice and pedagogical approaches to facilitating public speaking in the classroom; The benefits and drawbacks of debate including how to use it appropriately and assessing when to employ other techniques; Creating a supportive learning environment where students may overcome their anxieties about public speaking. An essential read for parents, teachers, teaching assistants, and senior leaders, Listen proposes a pedagogical approach to supporting student voice that is backed by current research yet firmly rooted in practical application.

Parent/Teen Stories Susan Clawson, 2009-04 Without Judgment, the first book of the groundbreaking Parent Teen Stories series, is a collection of short stories written by teens and parents that have experienced or are experiencing difficult teen years. Here, there is no judgment placed on the stories, no suggestions, no finger pointing, no what-ifs. It is an outlet for both the reader and the writer. The reader will benefit from finding a story they can relate to their own life, and the writer will benefit by sharing a painful experience in order to start or continue the healing process. When she was raising her own troubled teens, Susan Clawson, the coordinator of the Parent Teen Stories series, struggled with the judgment she perceived that came from high school guidance counselors, therapists, and the police. It left her feeling alone, frustrated, and embarrassed. It wasn't until Susan attended a seminar as part of a program her oldest daughter was enrolled in that she realized how many people were going through similar experiences. As stories were shared, Susan took comfort in the fact that she was not alone and she found a clearer perspective on her own situation. It is her hope that both the writers and readers of the stories in Without Judgment will find similar connections and be reassured that they are not alone in what they are experiencing.

Author Bio ABOUT THE AUTHOR Susan presently resides in Massachusetts with her husband and fifteen-year-old daughter. Both her older children live out of state. For more information, please visit www.parentteenstories.com.
