

A romantic couple is shown in a close embrace, nearly kissing. The woman has short reddish hair and is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved top. The man has dark hair and is wearing a light-colored shirt and dark trousers. They are standing on a sandy beach with the sea in the background. In the bottom left corner, a small black and white dog is visible. The Eiffel Tower is the prominent background element, its lattice structure clearly visible against a bright blue sky with some clouds. The overall mood is romantic and idyllic.

It was not until after the fall of the monarchy and the ascendancy of the Consulat and Empire under Napoleon that they began to recover so that by the middle of the nineteenth century they stood at the pinnacle of their achievement. This book is the first in depth study of the renowned porcelain works at Sèvres during its virtual rebirth under the 47 year direction of the scientist teacher and administrator Alexandre Brongniart. Some 110 working drawings from the Sèvres Archive are reproduced here for the first time in color. They celebrate the high skill of the artists whose work often documented contemporary events in France. There are table services in the Egyptian and Etruscan taste as well as individual pieces that recall Napoleonic military campaigns. There are also exquisite Neoclassical decorations using motifs such as birds, butterflies and insects that reflect the century's early fascination with the natural sciences. The repertoire of nineteenth century eclecticism is evident in the output of Sèvres from the revival of Gothic and renaissance motifs to the outburst of naturalism. Eleven essays by leading authorities assess this dynamic period. Revue de Paris, 1904 Revue de Paris 1829 La Revue de Paris, 1904 Dania, 1894 A Collection of ...
