Psychology Essay: Writing Guide and Tips

Espen Sjöberg, espen.sjoberg@gmail.com

General tips:

When writing a psychology essay it is important to present a review of the surrounding literature. You want to make it clear that you understand and can present the information in your own words. It is therefore important that you do extensive literature research that adds information to the topic. You will typically get extra marks if you are critical and show analytical skills. Lecturers are also often impressed if you find recent articles that they are unaware of, such as in press articles.

Writing approach

A good 2:1 (Merit) or First (Distinction) essay of 2000 words will in my opinion have at least 15 references, if not more. A very good idea is to base your essay on the lectures or relevant book chapters first, and then build it up around it. It often a good idea to write your essay in sections as you find relevant material and then modify it as you discover more information. This is, however, a matter of personal preference.

Personally, I write essays in this routine:

- 1) Clearly understand what the question is asking.
- 2) Read basics around the question by using relevant lecture handouts and book chapters. Perhaps do some light research until you get a clear, general idea of what the topic is about.
- 3) Start writing the essay. Do not worry about structure at all. If your essay has multiple themes, it can be an idea to create temporary headings and sort all your information into sections.
- 4) Begin extensive literature review. Read articles that relate to the essay topic. Many of these articles will reference other articles you may find interesting, which you in turn look up. Do a search for relevant articles or books on Google Scholar or Web of Knowledge. You can also browse relevant books in the library and see if you find anything.
- 5) Revise your essay. Add all the new information and revise any material that may change. Write introduction and conclusion.
- 6) Proof read and fine-polish your essay. Do this extensively, at least 5 times. There are always minor errors or points that are unclear or could be better. Proof-read it again and again and again. If possible, print it out and read it because this makes it easier to spot errors.

I have used this method for nearly four years and have never submitted an essay with a mark lower than 68% (10 essays).

An alternatively strategy is to read around the topic and do extensive literature searches, and then begin writing when you have all the information. However, if you do it this way, make sure you begin writing well ahead of the deadline.
