

Persuasive Communication Bootcamp

Lesson 1 Teacher's Guide

Overview:

This lesson aims to introduce students to the first 2 of the 4 fundamentals of persuasive communication, along with some games to practice analytical skills and reinforce the building blocks.

Goal:

By the end of this lesson, students should:

- Understand the definition of persuasive communication
- Be able to recite the first two building blocks of public speaking and explain their respective meanings

Materials Needed:

- Laptop (For presenting slides)
- Projector/Smart Board
- Writing Utensils (for worksheet)
- "What is Persuasive Communication?" printed worksheet (1 per student)

Lesson Breakdown:

Total Lesson Duration: 60 minutes
Introductions and Would You Rather: 15 minutes
What is Persuasive Communication: 10 minutes
Speaker: 10 minutes
Message: 10 minutes
Charades: 15 minutes

Introductions and Would You Rather:

Allow students to discuss with a partner or in a small group. Remind students to explain the reasoning behind their choice. If allowing students to share with the class, prompt the student to expand upon their reasoning

What is Persuasive Communication:

Distribute worksheet 1 to students, titled "What is Persuasive Communication?". Allow students a few minutes to complete the worksheet. Afterwards, provide students with the opportunity to share what they wrote to the class.

Building Blocks:

Inform the students that there are 4 building blocks of persuasive communication that we will cover throughout the program. Before teaching a given building block, call on a student to explain what they think the building block refers to.

Speaker:

After explaining Speaker to the students, play the video on the slides for them and lead the class in a discussion based on the guiding questions on the slide after the video. Once the students have discussed, ask them what they noticed from the video that could be applied to a speech they perform.

Message

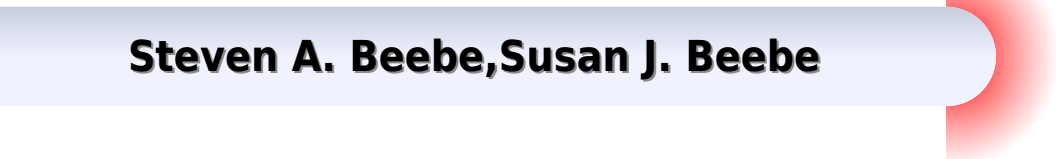

Call on different students to provide examples of each message. Emphasize that we will focus on persuasive messages here. During the four corners activity, after the students move around the room, call on students from each side of the room to explain their point of view. Reveal the answer at the end (answers are in a document in the drive).

Charades:

You will give a student an object or action for them to act. Ideas are in the drive folder under a separate doc.
