New York Magazine ,1974-01-21 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Generative Leadership Christine Joy Edwards-Groves, Karin Rönnerman, 2021-02-12 This book is about the generative nature of leading practices when teachers as learners participate in long term action research projects for the purpose of professional development This book also shows how practices of professional learning and practices of leading can be understood as related and developed in ecologies of practices the authors show how these are explicitly connected These findings direct readers to the connectivity between professional learning and leading practices that over time after participating in long term action research programs emerged as significant yet unexpected outcomes Partnership and Recognition in Action Research Christine

Edwards-Groves, Anette Olin, Gunilla Karlberg-Granlund, 2020-04-28 Critical participatory action research creates opportunities for people to work together to solve problems and address issues about the conditions under which they work through mutually agreed on actions in practice Partnership and recognition hold together the practices of critical participatory action research and as mutually entwined ideals are fundamental for site based education development Drawing on the theory of practice architectures this book interrogates and extends the concepts and practices of partnership and recognition in action research as they are explored in different educational settings and as these are played out in the day to day experiences and practices of people participating and collaborating in educational change Partnership and recognition are considered in terms of the agency and actions of both individuals and collectives as they encounter one another in educational change and in terms of the cultural discursive material economic and social political conditions that enable and constrain possibilities for partnerships and recognition Of central importance is the concept of practice theory and the authors illuminate how recognition change learning and development practices are experienced and recognised by people in a range of partnerships This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Action Research

What does science say about race In this book a distinguished research geneticist presents abundant evidence showing that traditional notions about distinct racial differences have little scientific foundation In short racism is not just morally wrong it has no basis in fact The author lucidly describes in detail the factors that have led to the current scientific consensus about race Both geneticists and anthropologists now generally agree that the human species originated in sub Saharan Africa and darkly pigmented skin was the ancestral state of humanity Moreover worldwide human diversity is so complex that discrete races cannot be genetically defined And for individuals ancestry is more scientifically meaningful than race Separate chapters are devoted to controversial topics skin color and the scientific reasons for the differences why ancestry is more important to individual health than race intelligence and human diversity and evolutionary perspectives on the persistence of racism This is an enlightening book that goes a long way toward dispelling the irrational notions at the heart of racism Second

International Handbook of Educational Change Andy Hargreaves,Ann Lieberman,Michael Fullan,David Hopkins,2010-08-13 The two volumes of the second edition of the International Handbook of Educational Change comprise a totally new and updated collection of the most critical and cutting edge ideas in educational change Written by the most influential thinkers in the field these volumes cover educational change at both the theoretical and practical levels The updated handbook remains connected to the classical concerns of the field such as educational innovation reform and change management and also offers new insights into educational change that have been brought about by social change and shifting contexts of educational reform Like the first best selling Handbook this one will also undoubtedly become an essential resource for people involved in all spheres of education from classroom teachers teacher leaders and administrators to educational researchers curriculum developers and university professors No other work provides such a wide ranging and comprehensive examination of the field of educational change

Population Ageing - A Threat to the Welfare State? Tommy Bengtsson, 2010-08-02 Tommy Bengtsson Population ageing the shift in age distribution towards older ages is of immense global concern It is taking place to a varying degree all over the world more in Europe and some Asian countries less on the African continent The worldwide share of people aged 65 years and above is predicted to increase from 7.5% in 2005 to 16.1% in 2050 UN 2007 p 11 The corresponding figures for developed countries are 15.5 and 26.2% and for developing countries 5.5 and 14.6% While population ageing has been going on for some time in the developed world and will continue to do so most of the change is yet to come for the developing world The change in developing countries however is going to be much faster than it has been in the developed world For example while it took more than 100 years in France and more than 80 years in Sweden for the population group aged 65 and above to increase from 7 to 14% of the population the same change in Japan took place over a 25 year period UN 2007 p 13 The scenario for the future is very similar for most developing countries including highly populated countries like China India and Brazil While the start and the speed differ the shift in age structure towards older ages is a worldwide phenomenon stressing the significance of the concept global ageing

Routledge Handbook of Indigenous Peoples in the Arctic Timo Koivurova, Else Grete Broderstad, Dorothée Cambou, Dalee Dorrough, Florian Stammler, 2020-12-03 This handbook brings together the expertise of Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars to offer a comprehensive overview of issues surrounding the well being self determination and sustainability of Indigenous peoples in the Arctic Offering multidisciplinary insights from leading figures this handbook highlights Indigenous challenges approaches and solutions to pressing issues in Arctic regions such as a warming climate and the loss of biodiversity It furthers our understanding of the Arctic experience by analyzing how people not only survive but thrive in the planet's harshest climate through their innovation ingenuity and agency to tackle rapidly changing environments and evolving political social economic and cultural conditions The book is structured into three distinct parts that cover key topics in recent and future research with Indigenous Peoples in the Arctic The first part examines the diversity of Indigenous peoples and their cultural expressions in the different Arctic states It also focuses on the well being of Indigenous peoples in the Arctic regions The second part relates to the identities and livelihoods that Indigenous peoples in Arctic regions derive from the resources in their environments This interconnection between resources and people's identities underscores their entitlements to use their lands and resources The third and final part provides insights into the political involvement of Indigenous peoples from local all the way to the international level and their right to self determination and some of the recent related topics in this field This book offers a novel contribution to Arctic studies empowering Indigenous research for the future and rebuilding the image of Indigenous peoples as proactive participants signaling their pivotal role in the co production of knowledge It will appeal to scholars and students of law political sciences geography anthropology Arctic studies and environmental studies as well as policy makers and professionals

Integrating Gender Equality into Business and Management Education Patricia M. Flynn, Kathryn Haynes, Maureen A. Kilgour, 2017-09-08 This volume addresses the need to integrate gender equality into business and management education and provides examples of leading initiatives illustrating how this can occur from various disciplinary and global perspectives Gender inequality has a long history in business schools and the workplace and traditions are hard to change Some disciplines remain resolutely gendered affecting both women and men and case materials on women leaders and managers are still rare The chapters provide conceptual and research rationales as to why responsible management education must address the issue of gender equality They also identify materials and resources to assist faculty in integrating gender issues and awareness into various disciplines and fields These include specific case studies and innovations that assess or address the role of gender in various educational environments The book is designed to help faculty integrate the topic of gender equality into their own teaching and research and gain support for the legitimacy of gender equality as an essential management education topic This is the first book in a series on gender equality as a challenge for business and management education published with the Principles of Responsible Management Education PRME Working Group on Gender Equality

The Geopolitics of Euro-Atlantic Integration Anders Wivel, Hans

Mouritzen,2004-06-01 No set of international relations is as thoroughly analyzed commented on taken apart and critiqued as the ties between Europe and the United States A period of post Cold War integration has been buffeted by trade disputes economic strife and differences in prosecuting the fight against global terrorism Now for the first time there is an accessible and theory based analysis of European foreign policies in the post Cold War era The authors argue that EU and NATO mediated geopolitics prevails in most of Europe but that raw geopolitics tends to pop up at the fringes of this thoroughly institutionalized area Moreover the effects of past geopolitics persist in the collective memories of several states and compete with contemporary geopolitics in their policy formulations Focusing on the post Cold War era The Geopolitics of Euro Atlantic Integration includes analyses of the Benelux Nordic and Baltic countries Central and East European countries and those in Southern Europe This geographical range was made possible through contributions by leading European scholars and area experts The coherence of this edited collection is facilitated by constellation theory a new geopolitical theory explaining European foreign policies in a comparative perspective Scenarios for the future of Europe are formulated as well as perspectives for the constellation theory when applied to other parts of the world Of interest to political scientists observers academics and students this is an invaluable guide to post Cold War European relations Skiing ,1977-11
