Evaluation

Jan-Eric Furubo,2018-02-06 Evaluation has come of age Today most social and political observers would have difficulty imagining a society where evaluation is not a fixture of daily life from individual programs to local authorities to parliamentary committees While university researchers grant makers and public servants may think there are too many types of evaluation rankings and reviews evaluation is nonetheless viewed positively by the public It is perceived as a tool for improvement and evaluators are seen as dedicated to using their knowledge for the benefit of society The book examines the degree to which evaluators seek power for their own interests This perspective is based on a simple assumption If you are in possession of an asset that can give you power why not use it for your own interests Can we really trust evaluation to be a force for the good To what degree can we talk about self interest in evaluation and is this self interest something that contradicts other interests such as the benefit of society Such questions and others are addressed in this brilliant innovative international collection of pioneering contributions

Speaking Out on Human Rights Pearl Eliadis,2014-04-01 Canadians like to see themselves as champions of human rights in the international community Closer to home however the human rights system in Canada particularly its public institutions such as commissions and tribunals has been the object of sustained debate and vehement criticism based largely on widespread myths about how it works In Speaking Out on Human Rights Pearl Eliadis explodes these myths analysing the pervasive distortions and errors on which they depend Canada s human rights system a unique legal tradition operating within a powerful modern constitution is a fundamental mechanism for ensuring the practical application of our national commitment to tolerance and inclusion Drawing on in depth interviews with Canada s leading human rights experts and extensive original research Eliadis explores the evolution of commissions and tribunals as vehicles of public policy and considers their mandate to mediate rights conflicts in such contested areas as hate speech religious freedoms and sexuality She provides a frank assessment of how Canada s human rights system functions and argues that misplaced critiques have prevented urgent and necessary discussions about the reforms that are needed to improve fairness and equality before the law and to ensure institutional independence impartiality and competence Speaking Out on Human Rights shows how our human rights system plays a unique and important role in the rights revolution both in Canada and internationally and offers promising avenues for its future development The Report of the Auditor General on Management of Livestock Identification and Trace Back System (LITS) by the Department of Veterinary Services (DVS). ,2010
