AND
HAPPY ENDING OF THE CASE.

WRECK OF A SLAVE SHIP.

The following extract of a letter from Philadelphia, dated November 11th, 1793, gives an account of the calamitous disaster that befell the Florida, Capt. McCashen, in latitude 33 deg. N. and longitude 73 deg. W. from London, bound to Portman, in Maryland, from the coast of Africa, with 380 slaves on board.

"On Wednesday the 28th of October 1793, at six o'clock in the evening, came on a most violent gale of wind at north, with thunder and lightning, the sea running very high, when the ship sprung a leak, and we were obliged to lie-to under bare poles, the water gained on us with both pumps constantly working. 10 P. M. endeavored to put the ship before the wind to no purpose. At twelve the small ballast having shifted over board, and there being seven feet water in the hold, all the masts aloft, and the ballast shifted to leeward, out away the rigging of the main and mizen masts, both of which went instantly down by the deck, and immediately after the foremast was carried away about twenty feet above. These overboard all our guns, upon which the ship sighted a line. We were then under a necessity of letting all our slaves out of boxes, to assist in pumping and baling.

"Thursday morning being moderate, having gained about three feet on the ship, we found every cask in the hold stove to pieces, so that we only saved a barrel of flour, 50 lbs. of bread, twenty-five gallons of wine, beer, and ale, and twenty-five gallons of spirits. The women and slaves were employed all this day in pumping and baling; the pumps were frequently choked, and brought up great quantities of sand. We were obliged to hoist one of the pumps up, and put it down the quarter deck hatchway. A ship this day bore down upon us, and, though very near, and we making every signal of distress, she would not speak to us.

"On Friday, the men slaves being very sullen and unruly, having had no sustenance of any kind for thirty eight hours, except a drink, we put one half of the strongest of them in boxes.

"On Saturday and Sunday, all hands night and day could scarce keep the ship clear, and were constantly under arms.
