Many people in Europe understand groups better but people elsewhere, especially those from non-western cultures, would have had different views.

General Notes: decomposers are heterotrophic and depend on dead biological organisms for their food. They are found in all environments and are essential for nutrient recycling.

Implications were positive (that without full participation was: "Pursue and encourage people's belief in learning to outgrow people of Africa. I have learned nothing for our future unless every African believed in our African continent).

The first three paintings are laid against the wall. Each painting is flanked by a large black, oval-shaped mirror and projecting out from the wall.
