pages 424–425

What decisions were made at Versailles?

Many nations sent delegates to the peace talks in Paris. The main leaders were Woodrow Wilson of the United States, Georges Clemenceau of France, and David Lloyd George of Britain. Germany and its allies and Russia were not present.

Wilson pushed for his peace plan called the Fourteen Points. He wanted to end secret treaties Britain and especially France had different views. They had suffered greatly in the war. They wanted to punish Germany. After long debates, the leaders finally agreed on a peace settlement. It was called the Treaty of Versailles and was signed in June 1919.

The treaty called for a League of Nations, the world organization that Wilson wanted. It would include 20 nations. The United States,

On the Importance of a Long-term Approach to Peace Processes Anna Scheithauer, 2017-01-04 Essay from the year 2011 in the subject Politics General and Theories of International Politics grade 1 University of Vienna Politikwissenschaft language English abstract This paper is set out to give a possible account of why so many peace processes concerning intra state ethnic conflicts have produced no war no peace situations hence states of negative peace where risks for resumed fightings are high rather than an actual resolution fostering mutual understanding and recognition involving society at large The first section of this assignment is designed to point out the necessity to resolve conflicts by peaceful means as well as of conflict transformation and thereby deals with the wide spread assumption first introduced by Zartman that conflicts require a ripe moment as the ideal entry point for eg mediators to reach a peace agreement among the belligerents which I have argued only leads to a peace settlement and thus more often to a flawed peace than to the conflict s resolution John Paul Lederach s approach of cultivating peace and Ramsbotham s ideas of conflict transformation both stressing the cruciality of a long term approach to peace processes have underlined my argumentation The second part then explores the fundamentals of the social psychological aspects of ethnic conflicts reflected upon so well by Herbert Kelman who builds upon Burton s research concerning the dimension of deep rooted conflicts as ethical conflicts usually can be described emphasising human needs and fears over interests since they can be seen as the root cause for the inadequacy of Zartman s theory of the ripe moment Moreover the concept of work shops designed by Kelman as a feature of track II diplomacy in conflict resolution shall serve as a successful example for an alternative in a long term approach to peace processes Altogether it is to notice that the paper is based on the constructivist assumption of the ethnic concept in contrast to the primordialist thought Furthermore Zartman s ripe moment should not in anyway be discredited in its contribution to conflict resolution as it can serve as a valuable turning point However it should not be seen as the solution but rather as an initial accompanying step in a long term process that is essential for a sustainable peace Finally when taking these considerations in mind the core element needed in addition for a successful peace process is political and societal will in order to really overcome no war no peace situations on the long term English 50 Practice Sets Exam Leaders Expert, General English 50 Practice Sets

Partitions Arie M. Dubnov, Laura Robson, 2019-01-29 Partition the physical division of territory along ethno religious lines into separate nation states is often presented as a successful political solution to ethnic conflict In the twentieth century at least three new political entities the Irish Free State the Dominions later Republics of India and Pakistan and the State of Israel emerged as results of partition This volume offers the first collective history of the concept of partition tracing its emergence in the aftermath of the First World War and locating its genealogy in the politics of twentieth century empire and decolonization Making use of the transnational framework of the British Empire which presided over the three major partitions of the twentieth century contributors draw out concrete connections among the cases of Ireland Pakistan and Israel the mutual influences shared personnel economic justifications and material interests that propelled the idea of partition forward and resulted in the violent creation of new post colonial political spaces In so doing the volume seeks to move beyond the nationalist frameworks that served in the first instance to promote partition as a natural phenomenon

Hanoi's War Lien-Hang T. Law and Peace Settlements Marc Weller, Mark Retter, Andrea Varga, 2021-02-04 International Law and Peace Settlements provides a systematic and comprehensive assessment of the relationship between international law and peace settlement practice across core settlement issues e.g. transitional justice, human rights, refugees, self-determination, power sharing and wealth sharing. The contributions address key cross-cutting questions on the legal status of peace agreements, the potential for developing international law and the role of key actors such as non-state armed groups, third-state witnesses and guarantors and the UN Security Council in the legalisation and internationalisation of settlement commitments. In recent years, significant scholarly work has examined facets of the relationship between international law and peace settlements through concepts such as jus post bellum and lex pacificatoria. International Law and Peace Settlements drives forward the debate on the legalisation and internationalisation of peace agreements with diverse contributions from leading academics and practitioners in international law and conflict resolution.

Environmental Issues and Social Inclusion in a Sustainable Era R. Iqbal Robbie, Ali Roziqin, Shannaz Mutiara Deniar, Ardik Praharjo, Kenny Roz, 2023-10-31 The Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) and the Paris Climate Agreement are examples of initiatives where countries show recognition of their interconnected interests and goals. This is particularly evident in the case of global environmental issues because they require global decision-making. The emergence of global environmental issues such as climate change, marine pollution and biodiversity loss has brought new challenges to governance and requires political support and innovation of global public policies. In addition, many social problems arise because of the environmental crisis. Environmental Issues and Social Inclusion in a Sustainable Era discusses environmental and social inclusion in a socio-economic perspective. The contributions analyse the management of global environmental problems at local, national and international levels with a special focus on multilevel governance, innovative public policies and economic development, finance and business. International Law in the Transition to Peace Carina Lamont, 2021-11-14 This book proposes a normative framework specifically designed for the complex and legally uncertain time period between armed conflicts and peace As such it contributes both to the furthering of a jus post bellum framework and to enhanced legal clarity in complex and legally uncertain environments This in turn contributes to strengthened protection engagements and thus to improved prospects of enabling sustainable peace and security in both national and international perspectives The book offers a novel but persuasive argument for a legal framework specific for transitional environments. Such legal framework it is argued is warranted in order to enable legal clarity to contemporary and outstanding legal issues as well as to furthering peace efforts in complex environments. The legal framework suggested proposes a dividing line between applicable legal frameworks that it is submitted enhances both legal clarity on protection engagements and the quest for sustainable peace. The framework proposed is founded on a legal analysis of the protective nature and function of law. It thus provides a rare but important perspective on law that is of value in the quest for sustainable peace and security. The research draws uniquely on both contemporary legal debates and on peace and conflict research. It does so in order to enable legal analysis that is both legally sound as well as appropriate and adequate in today's peace and security realities. The book provides a valuable resource for academics, researchers and policy makers in the areas of Public International Law, International Humanitarian Law, International Human Rights Law, the law of Peace Operations and Peace and Security Studies.

The EU as a State-builder in International Affairs Labinot Greiçevci, 2021-11-04. This book presents a systematic in depth and comparative analysis of the role of the EU in the process of international state building and is one of the first comprehensive books to do so at an international level. Taking the case of Kosovo it examines the EU's role in the birth of a state in comparison to other international actors from 1999 to 2008 and moves on to analyse the EU's role in norm diffusion in the post independence period 2008-2020. Throughout the book the author draws parallel analyses with broader debates and scholarly literature regarding the EU's role as a state builder or norm diffuser. Combining a liberal peace thesis framework with the normative power Europe (NPE) approach it analyses how successful the EU and other international actors were in the diffusion of tangible and normative impacts in the process of state building in Kosovo 1999-2008 along with the EU's diffusion of normative impact from 2008 to 2020. Finally it scrutinises the role of the EU and other international actors in the processes of state building through transference tools, funding and overt tools, political role. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU foreign policy, European politics, peace and conflict studies, the Western Balkans, state building, international organisations and more broadly to international relations.
