

Self-Introduction

My name is Zhao Yan. I am studying at Nanjing Foreign Language School and now busy preparing for college study. Many years of hard working and strict training have made me a qualified middle school student with high qualities.

I have a good relationship with my classmates and teachers as I am generally sociable in personality. I am thoughtful and helpful in school. As for my study, I pay special attention to the development of my thinking manners so that I become quick in thinking and broad in knowledge. Seeking reality and progress, I have achieved excellence in my study. I particularly love such subjects as math, physics, biology and English. I am strong in logical thinking and oral expressing. I am creative and unique in views on certain matters. I have won many awards in the above subjects (see the copies of these certificates).

Morally I may say I am also excellent, because I am strict with myself, following the school's rules and regulations, taking active part in various activities, displaying great interest in our country's important events and world affairs. I love our motherland and our people and I am trying to get the party membership. All this has led me to win the "Xiang Yu Scholarship".

In addition, I have developed many hobbies in my life. For example, I love reading, computer and Internet, music and sports. I have been a champion several times in our school's sports meet.

In short, as a student studying at Nanjing Foreign Language School, I am determined to make my own contribution to our country's diplomatic affairs.

How Students Write: A Linguistic

Analysis Laura Louise Aull,2020-04-01 Broad generalizations about people today are a familiar feature of first year student writing How Students Write brings a fresh perspective to this perennial observation using corpus linguistics techniques This study analyzes sentence level patterns in student writing to develop an understanding of how students present evidence draw connections between ideas relate to their readers and ultimately learn to construct knowledge in their writing Drawing on both first year and upper level student writing the book examines the discourse of students at different points in their education It also distinguishes between argumentative and analytic essays to explore the way school genres and assignments shape students choices In focusing on sentence level features such as hedges perhaps and boosters definitely this study shows how such rhetorical choices work together to open or close opportunities for thoughtful exchanges of ideas Attention to these features can help instructors foster civil discourse design effective assignments and expose and question norms of higher education

Acquisition of Word Order in Chinese as a Foreign Language Wenying Jiang,2009-09-04 Research in the field of Chinese as a second foreign language L2 acquisition at present does not match the increasing demand to learn Chinese as an L2 given that Chinese is the fastest growing foreign language in countries such as Japan South Korea the United States Canada UK and Australia Particularly research in Chinese L2 word order acquisition requires more attention because word order plays a more complex role in Chinese than in English due to the fact that Chinese relies heavily on word order for information structuring Experience with Chinese L2 learning and teaching shows that Chinese word order errors are a significant problem with adult English speaking learners However Chinese L2 researchers and teachers are left with no means to adequately describe and explain these errors for instruction purposes This book is specifically written to provide such a means for them to understand Chinese word order to describe and explain Chinese word order errors and also to help treat such errors in L2 classrooms The centrality of word order in Chinese grammar and the emerging popularity of learning Chinese L2 make this book an important resource for both the learner and the teacher
