Film and Identity in Kazakhstan Rico Isaacs,2018-02-07

Cinema and nationalism are two fundamentally modern phenomena but how have films shaped our understanding of the creation the imagining of Central Asian nations Here Rico Isaacs uses cinema as an analytical lens to explore how the Kazakh national identity has been constructed and contested Drawing on an analysis of Kazakh films from the last century and featuring new interviews with directors and critics involved in the Central Asian film industry his book traces the construction of nationalism within Kazakh cinema from the country's inception as a Soviet Republic to a modern independent nation Isaacs identifies four narratives since the collapse of the Soviet Union a warrior like ethnic narrative rooted in the 18th Century struggles against the Mongolian Oirat tribes a civic inspired narrative cemented in the Stalinist deportations of the 1930s and 40s a religious narrative founded within the mystic and philosophical religion of Tengrism and the cult of the Sky God and a socio economic narrative which roots Kazakh nationhood and identity in contemporary social divisions the lived day to day experiences of ordinary citizens and the struggles they face with authority These last two tropes demonstrate how cinema has emerged as a site of dissent against the country's authoritarian regime under President Nazarbayev Film and Identity in Kazakhstan advances our understanding of Kazakhstan and nationalism by demonstrating the multiple and inessential character of each and illustrates the important role of cinema in contesting political power in the post Soviet space

The "Dematerialized" Insurance Pierpaolo Marano,Ioannis

Rokas,Peter Kochenburger,2016-08-03 This book adopts an international perspective to examine how the online sale of insurance challenges the insurance regulation and the insurance contract with a focus on insurance sales consumer protection cyber risks and privacy as well as dispute resolution Today insurers policyholders intermediaries and regulators interact in an increasingly online world with profound implications for what has up to now been a traditionally operating industry While the growing threats to consumer and business data from cyber attacks constitute major sources of risk for insurers at the same time cyber insurance has become the fastest growing commercial insurance product in many jurisdictions Scholars and practitioners from Europe the United States and Asia review these topics from the viewpoints of insurers policyholders and insurance intermediaries In some cases existing insurance regulations appear readily adaptable to the online world such as prohibitions on deceptive marketing of insurance products and unfair commercial practices which can be applied to advertising through social media such as Facebook and Twitter as well as to traditional written material In other areas current regulatory and business practices are proving to be inadequate to the task and new ones are emerging For example the insurance industry and insurance supervisors are exploring how to review utilize profit from and regulate the explosive growth of data mining and predictive analytics big data which threaten long standing privacy protection and insurance risk classification laws This book s ambitious international scope matches its topics The online insurance market is cross territorial and cross jurisdictional with insurers often operating internationally and as part of larger financial services holding companies The authors exploration of these issues from the vantage points of some of the world s largest insurance markets the U S Europe and Japan provides a comparative framework which is necessary for the understanding of online insurance
