The Structure of Language Emma L. Pavey, 2010-08-19 Most of the time we communicate using language without considering the complex activity we are undertaking forming words and sentences in a split second This book introduces the analysis of language structure combining both description and theory within a single practical text It begins by examining words and parts of words and then looks at how words work together to form sentences that communicate meaning Sentence patterns across languages are also studied looking at the similarities and the differences we find in how languages communicate meaning The book also discusses how context can affect how we structure our sentences the context of a particular language and its structures the context of old and new information for us and our addressees and the context of our culture

Voyages of Malolo Robert Bonville, 2011-12 For thousands of years before documented history chronicled the achievements of the great Asian and European seafaring explorers the world's largest geographical attribute the Pacific Ocean was being navigated explored and colonized by the intrepid and heroic peoples of the South Seas For millennia their migrations eastward and northward from their origins in Asia allowed them to discover and populate most of the 20 000 islands considered to be one of the last and final frontiers of habitable earth For reasons of famine religion overpopulation war or just the overwhelming human desire for exploration these passionate and resourceful people set out on perilous voyages in wooden canoes to find new homes and better lives During this period in Polynesian history countless adventures myths and legends of tragedy conquest cataclysmic natural disasters and exploration were told and retold through oral tradition by the memory keepers down through the generations In approximately 1000 AD one such story details the spiritually guided unparalleled epic voyages of a double hulled deep sea sailing canoe and its crew of fourteen courageous loyal men Lead by a young western Polynesian mariner warrior who is inspired by his discovery of a piece of driftwood a wooden tablet containing undecipherable but somewhat recognizable hieroglyphic script known to these primitive people as Rongo In order to seek out and discover the meaning of the Rongo the gods directed the creation of a great seagoing canoe appropriately named Malolo the Flying Fish Built with great care and quality by expert craftsmen and artisans this beautiful sleek craft was special in every way built to withstand everything known and unknown that it could ultimately experience once it began its journey With a crew of skilled handpicked loyal men they set sail eastward on their momentous quest which takes them completely across the South Pacific to the seemingly endless land mass of South America then northward guided by their myths legends and visions of those they encounter along the way Their heroic adventures including their escape from sacrifice island their survival of a Tsunami the revenge of Pele the fire goddess and others describe in historically based detail the wonders experiences tragedies triumphs and discoveries by the men of Malolo during every phase of their voyage including their long and arduous time at sea For this intrepid crew of ancient mariners the questions remain will they ever discover the hidden meaning of the wooden tablet according to the will of their gods will their journey return them once again to their tiny Western Pacific island and will their epic adventure be worth all their suffering and loss

Culture and History in the Pacific Jukka Siikala,2021-09-29 Culture and History in the Pacific is a collection of essays originally published in 1990 The texts explore from different perspectives the question of culture as a repository of historical information They also address broader questions of anthropological writing at the time such as the relationship between anthropologists representations and local conceptions This republication aims to make the book accessible to a wider audience and in the region it discusses Oceania A new introductory essay has been included to contextualize the volume in relation to its historical setting the end of the Cold War era and to the present study of the Pacific and indigenous scholarship The authors of Culture and History in the Pacific include prominent anthropologists of the Pacific some of whom Roger Keesing and Marilyn Strathern to name but two have also been influential in the anthropology of the late 20th and early 21st century in general

Japan and China Wataru Masuda,2000 Brings together the study of modern China and Japan for the period prior to the 20th century The chapters deal with Chinese and Japanese works written in response to events in the other country and give a view of how they saw each other at a time when there were few personal contacts allowed Once Were Pacific Alice Te Punga Somerville,2012 Explores the relationship between indigeneity and migration among Maori and Pacific peoples Confucius and the Analects Bryan W. Van Norden,2002-01-03 Confucius is one of the most influential figures as historical individual and as symbol in world history and the Analects the sayings attributed to Confucius and his disciples is a classic of world literature Nonetheless how to understand both figure and text is constantly under dispute Surprisingly this volume is the first and only anthology on these topics in English Here contributors apply a variety of different methodologies including philosophical philological and religious and address a number of important topics from Confucius and Western virtue ethics to Confucius attitude toward women to the historical composition of the text of the Analects Scholars will appreciate the rigor of these essays while students and beginners will find them accessible and engaging Changing Natural Resource Regimes in Northern Ghana Wolfram Laube,2007 Colonial and national interventions have considerably changed the natural resource regimes regarding water and land in Northern Ghana However this change has not led to the establishment of new institutions but different actors farmers bureaucrats earthpriests chiefs and politicians are continuously engaged in negotiation process over natural resources While the institutional and distributional outcomes of these negotiation processes remain inconclusive they have led to a precarious local power balance in which different actors rely on different institutions and changing political alliances to pursue their interests
