SETTING THE STAGE World War II was one of history's most devastating conflicts. More than 55 million people died as a result of bombings, the Holocaust, combat, starvation, and disease. Near the end of the war, one of humankind's most destructive weapons, the atomic bomb, killed more than 100,000 people in Hiroshima and Nagasaki in a matter of minutes. Perhaps because of these horrors, world leaders look for ways to make the earth a safer, more secure place to live.

Issues of War and Peace

In the years after the end of World War II, the Cold War created new divisions and tensions among the world's nations. This uneasy situation potentially threatened the economic, environmental, and personal security of people across the world. So, nations began to work together to pursue collective security.

Nations Unite and Take Action Many nations consider that having a strong military is important to their security. After World War II, nations banded together to create military alliances. They formed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), the Warsaw Pact, and others. The member nations of each of these alliances generally pledged military aid for their common defense.

In addition to military alliances to increase their security, world leaders also took steps to reduce the threat of war. The United Nations (UN) works in a variety of ways toward increasing collective global security.

Peacekeeping Activities One of the major aims of the UN is to promote world peace. The UN provides a public forum, private meeting places, and skilled mediators to help nations try to resolve conflicts at any stage of their development. At the invitation of the warring parties, the UN also provides peacekeeping forces. These forces are made up of soldiers from different nations. They work to carry out peace agreements, monitor cease-fires, or put an end to fighting to allow peace negotiations to go forward. They also help to move refugees, deliver supplies, and operate hospitals.

As of June 2007, the UN had over 82,000 soldiers and police in 16 peacekeeping forces around the world. Some forces, such as those in India, Pakistan, and Cyprus, have been in place for decades.

Huq, 2012 Terrorism Commentary on Security Documents is a series that provides primary source documents and expert commentary on the worldwide counter terrorism effort Among the documents collected are transcripts of Congressional testimony reports by such federal government bodies as the Congressional Research Service CRS and the Government Accountability Office GAO and case law covering issues related to terrorism Most volumes carry a single theme and inside each volume the documents appear within topic based categories The series also includes a subject index and other indices that guide the user through this complex area of the law Volume 124 U S Approaches to Global Security Challenges analyzes U S strategy toward security threats across the globe and identifies the beginnings of a shift away from a reliance on military power to the application of various types of civilian power which utilize a multinational approach The documents introduced by Douglas Lovelace include U S perspectives on the international security situation generally as well as reports on more specific topics such as the security situation in Afghanistan terrorism in East Africa the evolving role of NATO and cooperation between the U S and other governments such as the EU and China in the fight against terrorism Chinese Macrosecuritization Juha A. Vuori, 2023-11-10 This book provides a holistic picture of Chinese global security discourses with a focus on macrosecritizations The work examines how the People s Republic of China PRC has aligned itself within global security discourses This is approached through the theory of securitization specifically by using the notion of macrosecritization as the lens for its analysis The book offers the first full account of Chinese macrosecritization discourses and alignments and it aims to discern what security speech with referent objects such as humanity civilization or nature has done in the domestic and international politics of China Specifically the work focuses on the discourses of the Cold War anti nuclear weapons climate change and the Global War on Terror which have all been postulated in the literature as macrosecritizations In addition it examines discourses with global referent objects that have been put forth by the PRC so that we can see whether its proposals for global security governance take the form of or are legitimated through macrosecritization The overall argument in the book is that the way contemporary China uses macrosecritization discourses provides for ontological security as its position in relation to other major powers is undergoing transformation by allowing it to maintain a consistent narrative of its international self that abides by its own set of moral values and sense of worth This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies Chinese politics and International Relations The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution NonCommercial ShareAlike CC BY NC SA 4 0 International Global security Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2007-11-25 This report from the Foreign Affairs Committee examines the issue of global security in respect of Russia It sets out 40 conclusions and recommendations covering the following areas democracy and human rights the bilateral UK Russia relationship energy security EU Russia relations European security issues international security issues Specific recommendations from the Committee include that the UK should continue to press its concerns about democratic and human rights standards with the Russian authorities that the Government should continue to offer assistance to Russia in the preparation of extradition requests to the UK and in the development of the country's judicial system further that the Government invites its Russian counterpart to renegotiate extradition arrangements between Russia and the UK the Committee also recommends that the Government make the development of a united and coherent EU Russia policy an explicit goal of its work in the EU in 2008 also that the Government work to bring closer together the Western and Russian assessments of the Iranian nuclear threat
