Power and Parenting K. Bonner, 1998-09-14 The power to act is two sided in that it refers to the parent's ability to initiate having children or responding to their actions and to the ability to suffer consequences irreversibility and unpredictability The book argues that the best way of responding to these essential limits is for the parent to develop the interrelation between wisdom ethicality and self mastery that is practical wisdom

Prisoners Once Removed Jeremy Travis, Michelle Waul, 2003 Addresses the issues of parenting behind bars and fostering successful family relationships after release

Developmental Psychopathology, Risk, Resilience, and Intervention Dante Cicchetti, 2016-02-01 Examine the latest research merging nature and nurture in pathological development Developmental Psychopathology is a four volume compendium of the most complete and current research on every aspect of the field Volume Four Genes and Environment focuses on the interplay between nature and nurture throughout the life stages and the ways in which a child's environment can influence his or her physical and mental health as an adult The discussion explores relationships with family friends and the community environmental factors like poverty violence and social support the development of coping mechanisms and more including the impact of these factors on physical brain development This new third edition has been fully updated to incorporate the latest advances and to better reflect the increasingly multilevel and interdisciplinary nature of the field and the growing importance of translational research The relevance of classification in a developmental context is also addressed including DSM 5 criteria and definitions Advances in developmental psychopathology are occurring increasingly quickly as expanding theoretical and empirical work brings about dramatic gains in the multiple domains of child and adult development This book brings you up to date on the latest developments surrounding genetics and environmental influence including their intersection in experience dependent brain development Understand the impact of childhood adversity on adulthood health Gauge the effects of violence poverty interparental conflict and more Learn how peer family and community relationships drive development Examine developments in prevention science and future research priorities Developmental psychopathology is necessarily interdisciplinary as development arises from a dynamic interplay between psychological genetic social cognitive emotional and cultural factors Developmental Psychopathology Volume Four Genes and Environment brings this diverse research together to give you a cohesive picture of the state of knowledge in the field

Handbook of Parenting Marc H. Bornstein, 2005-02-16 Despite the fact that most people become parents and everyone who has ever lived has had parents parenting remains a mystifying subject about which almost everyone has opinions but about which few people agree Striking permutations on the theme of parenting are emerging single parenthood blended families lesbian and gay parents and teen versus fifties first time moms and dads Divided into four volumes the Handbook of Parenting is concerned with different types of parents basic characteristics of parenting forces that shape parenting problems faced by parents and the practical sides of parenting Contributors have worked in different ways toward understanding all of these diverse aspects of parenting and look to the most recent research and thinking in the field to shed light on many topics every parent has wondered about Because development is too subtle dynamic and intricate to admit that parental caregiving alone determines the course and outcome of ontogeny volume 1 concerns how children influence parenting Volume 2 relates parenting to its biological roots and sets parenting in its ecological framework Volume 3 distinguishes among the cast of characters responsible for parenting and is revealing of the psychological make ups and social interests of those individuals Volume 4 describes problems of parenting as well as the promotion of positive parenting practices Written to be read and absorbed in a single sitting each chapter addresses a different but central topic in parenting and is rooted in current thinking and theory as well as classic and modern research on that topic All chapters follow a standard organization including an introduction to the chapter as a whole followed by historical considerations of the topic a discussion of central issues and theory a review of classic and modern research forecasts of future directions for theory and research and a conclusion In addition to considering their own convictions and research the chapter contributors present and broadly interpret all major points of view and central lines of inquiry
