The Monkeys

In a forest of Ecuador on South America, a monkey hangs in the trees. It holds its legs, curved like a hook, over a lower branch, while its hands grip the side of the branch above it at a time. The long legs of the monkey hold it in place as it swings its weight. Its palms and feet are covered with small, sharp claws, giving the animal a powerful grip. The monkey can hold its body in place for hours.

Many people think monkeys are stupid. But they are very clever. They can climb trees and jump from branch to branch. They can run and walk on the ground. They can swim and fly. They can do many things that we can do. They are very smart.
