Molecular Data Analysis Using R Csaba Ortutay, Zsuzsanna Ortutay, 2017-02-06 This book addresses the difficulties experienced by wet lab researchers with the statistical analysis of molecular biology related data. The authors explain how to use R and Bioconductor for the analysis of experimental data in the field of molecular biology. The content is based upon two university courses for bioinformatics and experimental biology students. Biological Data Analysis with R and High throughput Data Analysis with R. The material is divided into chapters based upon the experimental methods used in the laboratories. Key features include: Broad appeal: the authors target their material to researchers in several levels ensuring that the basics are always covered. First book to explain how to use R and Bioconductor for the analysis of several types of experimental data in the field of molecular biology. Focuses on R and Bioconductor which are widely used for data analysis. One great benefit of R and Bioconductor is that there is a vast user community and very active discussion in place in addition to the practice of sharing codes. Further R is the platform for implementing new analysis approaches therefore novel methods are available early for R users.

Statistical Analysis of Next Generation Sequencing Data Somnath Datta, Dan Nettleton, 2014-07-03 Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) is the latest high throughput technology to revolutionize genomic research. NGS generates massive genomic datasets that play a key role in the big data phenomenon that surrounds us today. To extract signals from high dimensional NGS data and make valid statistical inferences and predictions, novel data analytic and statistical techniques are needed. This book contains 20 chapters written by prominent statisticians working with NGS data. The topics range from basic preprocessing and analysis with NGS data to more complex genomic applications such as copy number variation and isoform expression detection. Research statisticians who want to learn about this growing and exciting area will find this book useful. In addition, many chapters from this book could be included in graduate level classes in statistical bioinformatics for training future biostatisticians who will be expected to deal with genomic data in basic biomedical research, genomic clinical trials, and personalized medicine. About the editors: Somnath Datta is Professor and Vice Chair of Bioinformatics and Biostatistics at the University of Louisville. He is Fellow of the American Statistical Association, Fellow of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, and Elected Member of the International Statistical Institute. He has contributed to numerous research areas in Statistics, Biostatistics, and Bioinformatics. Dan Nettleton is Professor and Laurence H. Baker Endowed Chair of Biological Statistics in the Department of Statistics at Iowa State University. He is Fellow of the American Statistical Association and has published research on a variety of topics in statistics, biology, and bioinformatics.

Handbook of Statistical Bioinformatics Henry Horng-Shing Lu, Bernhard Schölkopf, Martin T. Wells, Hongyu Zhao, 2022-12-08 Now in its second edition, this handbook collects authoritative contributions on modern methods and tools in statistical bioinformatics with a focus on the interface between computational statistics and cutting edge developments in computational biology. The three parts of the book cover statistical methods for single cell analysis, network analysis, and systems biology with contributions by leading experts addressing key topics in probabilistic and statistical modeling and the analysis of massive data sets generated by modern biotechnology This handbook will serve as a useful reference source for students researchers and practitioners in statistics computer science and biological and biomedical research who are interested in the latest developments in computational statistics as applied to computational biology

Linking Families, Learning, and Schooling Bobbie Kabuto, Prisca Martens, 2014-01-21 Parents who are also educational researchers have access to a domain that is highly complex and not always available to other scholars In this book parent researchers provide theoretical and practical insights into children s learning in the home and at school Readers are given a window into learning in the home context and how all family members organize or engage in that learning Working on two levels the book develops scholarly discussions about learning in the home how is it organized who the participants are and what children are learning and it illustrates the impacts that outside institutions in particular schools have on families It is unique in showcasing parent research as a type of research paradigm with particular aspects and challenges Both teachers and researchers can learn from these studies as they show the impact that schooling has on families and how institutional discourses and beliefs can both positively and negatively affect the dynamics of any family

Conference Research Topic: 9th Symposium on Antimicrobial Resistance in Animals and the Environment (ARAE 2023) Benoit Doublet,Michel Stanislas Zygmunt,Axel Cloeckart,Sebastien Olivier Leclercq,2025-02-03 The emergence of antimicrobial resistance is a seminally important public health concern Significant progress has been made in recent years regarding an understanding of the genetic and biochemical basis for antimicrobial resistance the emergence of resistance genes and factors promoting their widespread dissemination including the role of lateral gene transfer Nevertheless there is a dearth of information regarding the key hotspots and genetic mechanisms responsible for resistance development and the exposure routes leading to the failure of antimicrobial agents important in human and animal medicine There is thus an urgent need for research to provide governments public health stakeholders and the agricultural sector the knowledge required to develop policies and practices that effectively mitigate resistance development This within a growing recognition that humans animals and the environment must be considered as intimately
