Reason And The Imagination:

Reason and Imagination Joseph Anthony Mazzeo, 2021-11-29 First published in 1962 Reason and Imagination presents collection of fourteen essays dedicated to Marjorie Hope Nicholson and is divided equally between works of her colleagues and of her former students It contains themes like noble numbers and poetry of devotion Cromwell as Davidic King the isolation of the renaissance hero Milton's dialogue on Astronomy music mirth and Galenic traditions in England the Augustan conception of history Locke and Sterne and literary criticism and artistic interpretation to weave a narrative of the history of ideas in the seventeenth and eighteenth century This book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of literary history philosophy comparative literature and English literature in general The Textual Sublime International Association for Philosophy and Literature. Meeting, 1990-01-01 This book addresses the question of deconstruction by asking what it is and discussing its alternatives To what extent does deconstruction derive from a philosophical stance and to what extent does it depend upon a set of strategies moves and rhetorical practices that result in criticism Special attention is given to the formulations offered by Jacques Derrida in relation to Heidegger's philosophy and by Paul de Man in relation to Kant's theory of the sublime and its implications for criticism And what in deconstructive terms does it mean to translate from one textual corpus into another Is it a matter of different theories of translation or of different practices And what of difference itself Does not difference already invoke the possibility of deconstruction's others Althusser Adorno and Deleuze are offered as exemplary cases The essays in this volume examine in detail these differences and alternatives The Textual Sublime is particularly concerned with how a text philosophical or literary sets its own limits borders and margins how it delimits what constitutes the text per se and how it invokes at the same time what is not determinately in the text The textual sublime is that aspect of a text that deconstruction shows to be both an element of the text and what surpasses the text what takes it outside itself in view of alternatives and alterities and what ties it to differing philosophical rhetorical historical and critical practices

Reasoning beyond Reason Jeff Sellars, 2011-01-01 There is a seeming dichotomy in C S Lewis's writing On the one hand we see the writer of argumentative works and on the other hand we have the imaginative poet Lewis also found this dichotomy within himself When he was a rationalist and atheist he found that these two sides of him were pulling in different directions he believed that his rationalist side could not be reconciled with his imaginative side Once he became a Christian he eventually found a means of marrying the two principally through story and myth Within C S Lewis studies there is also a common conception of Lewis as a modern rationalist philosopher i e a rationalist who thinks arguments and his arguments in particular are the last answer on the questions he undertakes Reasoning beyond Reason attempts to take this view to task by placing Lewis back into his pre modern context and showing that his sources and influences are classical ones In this process Lewis is viewed through the idea that imagination and reason are connected in an intimate way they are different expressions of a single divine source of truth and there is an imagination already present upon which reason works Lewis's transpositional view of imagination implicitly pushes towards a somewhat radical position the imagination is to be seen as theological in its reliance upon something more than the merely material it necessarily relies on a transcendent funding for its use and meaning In other words the imagination is a well source for what we might normally label rational

The Left in Search of a Center Michael Crozier,Peter Murphy,1996 Does leftist political thought have a future American liberalism is being marginalized European socialism is exhausted and cultural radicalism has become little more than a sideshow Contributors to The Left in Search of a Center probe questions of how political community can be imagined and constituted in the contemporary world Together they make it apparent that the still emerging idea of political community is anchored in the pluralistic and cross cultural nature of late twentieth century Western societies

Phenomenology/Ontopoiesis Retrieving Geo-cosmic Horizons of Antiquity Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka,2011-08-10 The controversy of flux and stasis as the groundwork of reality of Greek ancient philosophy reached its crux in the all encompassing doctrine of the logos by Heraclitus of Ephesus It centers upon human soul in its role with the cosmos Philosophy of the Occident corroborating Greek insights with the progress of culture in numerous interpretations Kant Kierkegaard Husserl Merleau Ponty Ricoeur presented in this collection has neglected the cosmic sphere While contemporary development of science revealed its grounding principles papers by Grandpierre Kule and Trutty Coohill the ancient logos fully emerges Thus logos hitherto hidden in our commerce with earth is revealed in its intertwinings with the cosmos through the trajectories of the phenomenology onto-poiesis of life Tymieniecka The crucial link between the soul and the cosmos in a new geo cosmic horizon is thus being retrieved Law and Life in Common Timothy Macklem, 2015-03-12 We live in a moral world in which reasons come in different kinds as well as different weights so that the claims of one reason upon us are often different from but no greater than the claims of some other reason Yet law in its self presentation and in theoretical accounts of it proceeds as if its rational pull was conclusive as if there were no sensible alternative to compliance with its terms In itself that should not be surprising each of us often acts as if the reasons that animate us were morally determinative Why should law operate in any other way Yet we know that in fact reasons are usually not determinative of action and while pretence to the contrary may not much matter in individual settings it matters very much in the setting of the law The ability of the law to build a life in common of whatever kind is dependent on its ability to function most of the time at least as if its claims were pre eminent rather than undefeated at best If law is to succeed in its basic project of binding people to its aims it must buttress its limited rational claims with arational appeals It needs partners not only in the prudential considerations that force gives rise to but also in the beguilement that shared imaginings make possible This book is an exploration of those partnerships in principle and in their most important details Voices from the Press James J. Brenton, 1850 Writings by printers accompanied by biographical sketches of individual printers and a short history of printing in America Aristotle: de Anima Aristotle, 2016 Christopher Shields presents a new translation and commentary of Aristotle's De Anima a work of interest to philosophers at all levels as well as psychologists and students interested in the nature of life and living systems The volume provides a full translation of the complete work together with a comprehensive commentary While sensitive to philological and textual matters the commentary addresses itself to the philosophical reader who wishes to understand and assess Aristotle's accounts of the soul and body perception thinking action and the character of living systems It aims to present controversial aspects of the text in a neutral fair minded manner so that readers can come to be equipped to form their own judgments Diderot Studies Otis Fellows, 1949 The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education Chris Steyaert, Timon Beyes, Martin Parker, 2016-06-17 The position and role of the business school and its educational programmes have become increasingly prominent yet also questioned and contested What management education entails and how it is enacted has become a matter of profound concern in the field of higher education and more generally for the development of the organized world Drawing upon the humanities and social sciences

The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education imagines a different and better education offered to students of management entrepreneurship and organization studies. It is an intervention into the debates on what is taught and how learning takes place, demonstrating both the potential and the limits of what the humanities and social sciences can do for management education. Divided into six sections, the book traces the history and theory of management education, reimagining central educational principles and outlining an emerging practice-based approach. With an international cast of authors, The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education has been written for contemporary and future educators and for students and scholars who seek to make a difference through their practice. Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review, 1835
