A Work in Progress Matt Haydock, 2021-09-16

When Lady Justine Harfield drowned in the stream that runs through the village of Prinsted the coroner had returned a verdict of accidental death Twenty years later Lady Justine's daughter Rose who was only five years old at the time of her mother's death remained to be convinced of the correctness of that verdict She asks Brazelle a man she has only recently met to investigate Brazelle is at first reluctant to agree but is eventually persuaded to take a fresh look at the matter Although his initial enquiries fail to throw up anything that appears to conflict with the coroner's verdict he very quickly becomes aware of some rather mysterious and odd circumstances surrounding the tragedy and decides to focus his attention on those The wealthy Harfield family has maintained its position of prominence in the parish of Prinsted for over three hundred years and possesses a number of family mysteries that stretch back that far As Brazelle investigates the context of Lady Justine's death he is also drawn into exploring some of these age-old mysteries although it isn't just simple curiosity that motivates him but something far more complex There is an air of mystery surrounding Brazelle himself and the further he researches the more he realises there is a very clear interplay between the Harfield family mysteries and some of his own deep secrets The truth Brazelle eventually discovers is not only unexpected and shocking but has elements that are so sensitive he decides they should never be made public

Onomastics in Contemporary Public Space Oliviu Felecan, 2013-08-19 Onomastics in Contemporary Public Space aims at analysing names and name giving from an intercultural perspective within the context of contemporary public space As was the case of Name and Naming Synchronic and Diachronic Perspectives Cambridge Scholars Publishing 2012 the geographical areas investigated in the studies included in this volume are very diverse referring not only to European cultural space but also to American Asian African and Australian contexts Being a collective work the book brings together 49 specialists from 18 countries namely Australia Belgium Finland France Germany Israel Italy Japan Malta the Netherlands Poland Romania Russia Singapore South Africa Spain the United Kingdom and the USA Thematically the volume is organised so that it may cover all the dimensions of public space as far as onomastics is concerned The specific areas studied are the theory of names names of public places linguistic landscapes names of public economic cultural religious and sports institutions names of business establishments religious institutions places of worship and cultural associations as well as names in journals and magazines names of objects entities resulting from various processes in public space names of foods drinks and food brands code names of collaborators in secret service organisations names in literature nicknames bynames pseudonyms in the world of politics high life art and sport names in virtual space and zoonyms and miscellanea The originality and topicality of the subject lie in the multidisciplinary viewpoint adopted in the research in which onomastics merges with adjacent linguistic disciplines such as sociolinguistics psycholinguistics and pragmatics as well as other sciences such as history literature anthropology politics economy and religion
