

WHY YOU SHOULD GET A CAT

Cats are independent 1

If they have food, water, and a litter box, cats don't require your undivided attention and can be left alone for a full day. They are able to entertain themselves for hours and don't need daily exercise walks or bathroom walks.

2 Cats keep pests at bay

Cats are natural-born predators and they will hunt anything from flies, moths, spiders, bugs, and mice. The smell of a cat alone acts as a repellent and will drive the mice away from your house.

Cats are clean 3

Cats spend more than half of their waking hours grooming themselves, so you rarely have to bathe your cat. They don't smell and feel soft and clean when you touch them. Even long-haired cats require less grooming than a dog.

4 Cats don't need training

Kittens get potty trained by their mother until they are weaned and after a natural instinct will drive them to the litter box. Potty training for cats only takes a few tries and once they learn, you never have to worry about leaving them home alone.

Cats require less space 5

Cats adapt to any place, which makes them ideal pets even in a small apartment. Just take advantage of your vertical space, getting them a cat tree, a window perch, or some cat shelves and they will be more than happy to just sleep on it all day.

6 Cats are low-cost

Owning a cat it's more affordable than owning a dog because cats require less food, less toys and almost no grooming costs.

Cats keep you healthier 7

- Owning a cat reduces stress and makes you live longer.
- A cat's purr has therapeutic healing capabilities on human muscle and bones, it also can calm your nervous system and lower your blood pressure.
- Petting a cat releases endorphins into the brain, which makes you happier.
- Cat owners have been reported to carry a lower risk for heart disease and stroke.
- Living with cats as a child, helping you develop an immune system that combats all sorts of allergens later in life.
