Economic Management in a Hyperinflationary Environment George Kararach, Raphael O. Otieno, 2016-02-11 This volume provides an accessible and up to date account of the difficulties that the Zimbabwean economy and its population experienced during the crisis which peaked in 2008 It details the suffering and chaos that befell the country with dramatic socio economic consequences on growth macroeconomic stability service delivery livelihoods and development The volume seeks to provide a political economy analysis of leadership and economic management in developing economies based on Zimbabwe s experience It examines the triggers of the crisis and the negative impact on productive sectors such as manufacturing and agriculture social sectors such as education and health and on financial services The volume will be of interest to students of policy and economic management as well as to government departments central banks in developing countries development agencies donors and NGOs

Uncovering African Agency Lucy Corkin, 2016-02-17 China s engagement in Africa is generally portrayed simply as African countries being exploited for their mineral wealth by a wealthy political and economic superpower Is this always the case Certain African countries have been able to use China s involvement in the region to grow their economies and solicit renewed interest from previously disengaged foreign powers by using their relationship with China to bolster their political capital In this thought provoking and original work Lucy Corkin demonstrates how Angola has been amongst the most successful of African nations in this role The concept of African agency covers a wide range of different countries with very different capabilities and experiences of engaging with China In each individual country there are a myriad of actors all with increasingly discernible agencies Uncovering African Agency Angola s Management of China s Credit Lines casts a fascinating new light on China s involvement with her largest African trading partner and through this shows how different African states and the governmental actors within them are able to exploit the relationship to their best advantage

Poor Numbers Morten Jerven, 2013-01-24 One of the most urgent challenges in African economic development is to devise a strategy for improving statistical capacity Reliable statistics including estimates of economic growth rates and per capita income are basic to the operation of governments in developing countries and vital to nongovernmental organizations and other entities that provide financial aid to them Rich countries and international financial institutions such as the World Bank allocate their development resources on the basis of such data The paucity of accurate statistics is not merely a technical problem it has a massive impact on the welfare of citizens in developing countries Where do these statistics originate How accurate are they Poor Numbers is the first analysis of the production and use of African economic development statistics Morten Jerven s research shows how the statistical capacities of sub Saharan African economies have fallen into disarray The numbers substantially misstate the actual state of affairs As a result scarce resources are misapplied Development policy does not deliver the benefits expected Policymakers attempts to improve the lot of the citizenry are frustrated Donors have no accurate sense of the impact of the aid they supply Jerven s findings from sub

Saharan Africa have far reaching implications for aid and development policy As Jerven notes the current catchphrase in the development community is evidence based policy and scholars are applying increasingly sophisticated econometric methods but no statistical techniques can substitute for partial and unreliable data

Innovation, Regional Integration, and Development in Africa Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Mammo Muchie, 2018-07-26 This edited volume discusses the role of innovation and regional integration in economic development in Africa Over the past five decades post colonial African countries have struggled to break loose from the trap of poverty and underdevelopment through the adoption of various development strategies at regional national and continental levels However the results of both national and regional efforts at advancing development on the continent have been mixed Although the importance of agglomeration and fusion of institutions have long been recognized as possible path to achieving economic development in Africa the approach to regionalism has been unduly focused on market integration while neglecting other dimensions such as social policy mobility of labor educational policy biotechnology regional legislation manufacturing innovation and science and technology This volume investigates the link between innovation regional integration and development in Africa arguing that the immediate and long term development of Africa lies not just in the structural transformation of its economies but in the advancement of scientific and innovation capacities The book is divided into four parts Part I addresses the theoretical and conceptual underpinnings of innovation and regional integration in Africa Part II presents case studies which examine how regional economic institutions are fostering innovation in Africa Part III of the book deals with sectoral issues on innovation and integrated development in Africa Part IV sets the future research on innovation regional integration and development in Africa Combining theoretical analysis and a comparative interdisciplinary approach this volume is appropriate for researchers and students interested in economic development political economy African studies international relations agricultural science and geography as well as policymakers in regional economic communities and the African Union

Economic Statecraft and Foreign Policy Jean-Marc F. Blanchard, Norrin M. Ripsman, 2013-07-18 This book develops a unified theory of economic statecraft to clarify when and how sanctions and incentives can be used effectively to secure meaningful policy concessions High profile applications of economic statecraft have yielded varying degrees of success The mixed record of economic incentives and economic sanctions in many cases raises important questions Under what conditions can states modify the behaviour of other states by offering them tangible economic rewards or by threatening to disrupt existing economic relations To what extent does the success of economic statecraft depend on the magnitude of economic penalties and rewards In order to answer these questions this book develops two analytic models one weighs the threats economic statecraft poses to the Target's Strategic Interests TSI while the other stateness assesses the degree to which the target state is insulated from domestic political pressures that senders attempt to generate or exploit Through a series of carefully crafted case studies including African apartheid and Japanese incentives to obtain the return of the Northern Territories the authors demonstrate how their model can yield important policy insights in regards to contemporary economic sanctions and incentives cases such as Iran and North Korea This book will be of much interest to students of statecraft sanctions diplomacy foreign policy and international security in general

Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. November 2010 Economics Paper One Zimsec : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
