The administration of examinations for 15-19 year olds in England Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2012-07-03 This report from the Education Committee looks at the administration of examinations for 15 19 year olds in England The Committee expresses serious concerns about incentives in the exam system and about competition on syllabus content Incentives in the system should be changed so the downward pressure through the competition of exam boards is mitigated The Committee considers a number of options to change incentives including i A single board This offers a simpler system with no risk of competition but the Committee believes the cost risk and disruption outweigh the benefits ii Franchising of subjects to exam boards This removes syllabus competition but again has downsides 3 Or the current system of multiple boards The Committee sees no benefit in competition on syllabus content but the setting and marking of exams and associated administration if properly regulated could generate incentives and drive quality up offering value for money to schools and colleges The Committee also recommends the development of national syllabuses accredited by Ofqual The syllabuses would be developed by exam boards in conjunction with learned bodies and employer organisations and could therefore retain the benefits of competition on quality and the incentive for exam boards to innovate

2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do
