

Paper Example - Career Research Project Essay

Gerontology is a career that investigates both the mental and physical challenges that affect older adults. The career also examines the shifts that happen in society as aging individuals continue to grow in number, which then forces the development of various programs needed to address such societal changes (Horowitz et al., 136). The professionals that study gerontology advocate for aging individuals and assist them in maintaining a high quality of life. In the United States alone, the aging population is growing, creating opportunities for individuals who pursue a career in gerontology.

From the census forecasts, by 2035, the number of older adults for the first time in the history of the United States will outnumber children. The increasing number of adults will lead to increased demand for social services and healthcare (Gonzales et al., 256). The paper discusses the reasons for pursuing a career in gerontology, the reasons that make a career in gerontology a great choice, job requirements in gerontology, job availability, earning potential for a career in gerontology, and impacts of gerontology on service and support of older adults.

Reasons for pursuing a Career in Gerontology

Most individuals pursue a career in gerontology because of several career opportunities that it presents and the opportunity that it enables to work with older adults in the process of helping with various services across various fields. A career in gerontology is excellent, primarily when gerontology programs are provided to students pursuing the career. Gerontology programs equip with skills that help to better understand the process and challenges that the aging population undergoes (Gonzales et al., 259). Another reason for pursuing a career in gerontology is to explore the effects caused by the aging population on society. Also, to have a more compassionate outlook of the community now that the number of the aging population is growing faster, especially in the United States wherein few years to come, the number of older adults might be more compared to the number of children.

A career in gerontology enables professionals to work closely with individuals from various backgrounds through frequent collaboration with administrative, medical, and social service professionals. More so, a career in gerontology opens doors to many lucrative and rewarding job opportunities through its ability to working in diverse industries. It positions professionals as health services and medical managers, social workers, and research analysts. There are increased opportunities in the current world for gerontologists to assist the aging population, and they can experience substantial career growth (Horowitz et al., 137). The need for gerontology professionals is needed in high numbers as Americans, and other people all over the world live longer as the aging population needs financial, medical, and social support.

Reasons that Makes Gerontology a Great Choice

Gerontology is the most diverse field that cuts across many areas in human services such as retirement communities, long-term and health care institutional care, government agencies, and nursing homes. It offers an excellent opportunity to study the changes that occur in society regarding the aging individuals, the changes that adults undergo as they grow older. It also allows
