

Father,

Today I will dribble, pass, and shoot a ball through a hoop. I have mastered skills through hours of practice and trained my body to be conditioned for basketball. Thank you for the ability to play this game I love so much. For as long as it lasts, I will give it my all and do my best to honor you with my efforts.

Please, Lord, look after my coach, teammates, opponents, fans, and officials. May we get to our appointed venue safely and without injury. May we all compete fiercely, but behave properly. Give us grace in either victory or defeat.

Thank you for my fans and family. I ask you to grant wisdom, peace, and prosperity to everyone in my life. Let my life be a reflection of my savior.

In His name I pray.

Amen

Prayer For Sports Awards:

More Than Play Dionne Koller, 2025 Tens of millions of children in the United States participate in youth sport a pastime widely believed to be part of a good childhood Yet most children who enter youth sport are driven to quit by the time they enter adolescence and many more are sidelined by its high financial burdens Until now there has been little legal scholarly attention paid to youth sport or its reform Dionne Koller sets the stage for a different approach by illuminating the law and policy assumptions supporting a model that puts children's bodies to work in an activity that generates significant surplus value In doing so she identifies the wide array of beneficiaries who have a stake in a system that is much more than just play and the political choices that protect these parties' interests at children's expense
